AT THE COURT AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

The 12th day of August, 1924.

PRESENT,

THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY IN COUNCIL.

WHEREAS at Lausanne, on the 24th day of July, 1923, a Treaty of Peace with Turkey (hereinafter referred to as "The Treaty") was signed on behalf of His Majesty:

AND WHEREAS at Lausanne, on the same date, the conventions, protocols and declaration mentioned in the First Schedule to this Order were also signed on behalf of His Majesty, and at Paris on the 23rd day of November, 1923, there was also so signed a convention relating to the assessment and reparation of damage suffered in Turkey by the nationals of the contracting Powers and the protocol annexed thereto:

AND WHEREAS by the Treaty of Peace (Turkey) Act, 1924, it was provided that His Majesty might make such appointments, establish such offices, make such Orders in Council, and do such things as appeared to Him to be necessary for carrying out the Treaty and the said conventions, protocols and declaration, and for giving effect to any of the provisions thereof, and that any Order in Council made under that Act might provide for the imposition, by summary process or otherwise, of penalties in respect of breach of the provisions thereof, and might provide for granting exemption from stamp duty in cases where such exemption was required under the Treaty, and for conferring on courts within His Majesty's Dominions jurisdiction in cases where, under the convention respecting Conditions of Residence and Business and Jurisdiction such courts are alone to have jurisdiction:

AND WHEREAS the Treaty contains the Articles set out in the first column of Part I of the Second Schedule to this Order (a translation whereof is, for the purpose of convenience, set forth in the second column thereof), and the last mentioned convention contains the Article set out in the first column of Part II of that Schedule (a translation whereof is, for the purpose of convenience, set forth in the second column thereof), and it is expedient that for the purposes of giving effect thereto the provisions hereinafter contained shall have effect:

AND WHEREAS by sections 4 and 9 of the Indian Enemy Trading Act, 1915 (XIV of 1915) and Government of India notification No. 6055W.11, dated 22nd July, 1916, issued under that Act and by Section 7 of the Indian Enemy Trading Act, 1916 (X of 1916) it was provided that the custodians of enemy property appointed under the Indian Enemy Trading Act, 1915, should, subject to the provisions therein mentioned, hold any money paid to and any property vested in them under those Acts, and should deal with the same in such a manner as the Governor-General in Council might direct.

AND WHEREAS by treaty, grant, usage, sufferance, or other lawful means His Majesty has power and jurisdiction in territories and in regard to persons in India outside British India, and is pleased by virtue of and in exercise of the powers vested in Him by the Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1890, and all other powers enabling Him in this behalf, to extend the provisions of this Order to such territories or persons.

NOW, THEREFORE, His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered as follows:—

1. The Articles of the Treaty set out in Part I of the Second Schedule to ~~this Order~~ shall have full force and effect as law, and for the purpose of carrying out Articles the following provisions shall have effect:—

(i) A custodian of enemy property shall, on the direction of the Governor-General in Council, pay or transfer any money held by him or property vested in him under the Indian Enemy Trading Acts, 1915 and 1916, to any person to whom it is payable or transferable under the Treaty.

(ii) The competent authority for the purposes of Article 70 of the Treaty, in so far as it applies to money or other property in India shall be the custodian of enemy property appointed for the area in which such money or other property is situated or if no such custodian has been appointed, the Governor-General in Council.

- (iii) All decisions of the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal constituted under Section V of Part III of the Treaty, if within the jurisdiction of that tribunal, shall be final and conclusive and binding on all courts, and any award of the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal may be enforced in the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction of the place where the money or other property is situated in the same manner as a decree obtained in that Court to the same effect.
- (iv) For the purpose of enforcing the attendance of witnesses before the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal, wherever sitting, whether within or without His Majesty's Dominions, and compelling the production before the tribunal of documents, a Secretary of the Government of India shall have power to issue orders which shall have the like effect as if the proceedings before the tribunal were an action in a court and the order were a formal process issued by that court in the due exercise of its jurisdiction, and disobedience to any such order shall be punishable under the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860).
- (v) The Controller of Patents and Designs shall have power as from the coming into force of the Treaty in cases where patents and designs are revived under the provisions of Article 87 of the Treaty, to impose such conditions as he may deem reasonably necessary for the protection of the rights of third parties who have exploited or made use of patents or designs during the time whilst they had lapsed.

2. The agreement contained in Article 16 of the Convention respecting Conditions of Residence and Business and Jurisdiction, set out in Part II of the Second Schedule to this Order, shall have full force and effect as law, and for the purpose of carrying out the said agreement the following provisions shall have effect :—

- (i) In all cases where, in pursuance of the agreement contained in the said Article 16, courts established in British territory are to have jurisdiction, His Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature in England shall be the court having such jurisdiction, except where the case is one where, apart from this provision, some other court within His Majesty's Dominions would have jurisdiction :

Provided that where, as respects any case jurisdiction as to which is so conferred on His Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature in England, on application being made to the Supreme Court of Cyprus, or to a superior court in any other part of His Majesty's Dominions which may from time to time be authorised for the purpose by an Order in Council under the Treaty of Peace (Turkey) Act, 1924, it is made to appear to that court that the case could be more conveniently tried in that court than in His Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature in England, the Supreme Court of Cyprus, or such other superior court as aforesaid, shall have jurisdiction in the matters, subject to the following qualifications, that is to say :—

- (a) where proceedings have been instituted in His Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature in England, no such application shall be made without the leave of that court :
- (b) where the matter is one with respect to which the Supreme Court of Cyprus or the superior court of any other part of His Majesty's Dominions, has not jurisdiction in relation to persons domiciled in Cyprus or that other part as the case may be, nothing in this Article shall authorise applications to be made to, or confer jurisdiction on, that supreme court or superior court.

- (ii) The law to be administered in His Majesty's Supreme Court of Judicature in England, or the Supreme Court of Cyprus or other such superior court as aforesaid, in any case where jurisdiction is conferred on the court by this Article, shall be the law which would have been applicable to the case under Article 90 of the Ottoman Order in Council, 1910, had the case been tried by a court established by and acting under that Order.

Interpretation Act, 1889, applies for the interpretation of this Order in like manner as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament, and as if this Order were an Act of Parliament.

4. This Order shall apply to India, and shall be deemed to have come into operation as from the date when the Treaty of Peace came into force, that is to say the sixth day of August, nineteen hundred and twenty-four.

5. This Order may be cited as "The India Peace Treaty (Turkey) Order, 1924."

Article 58.

La Turquie convient également de ne pas demander au Gouvernement britannique ni à ses ressortissants la restitution des sommes payées pour les bâtiments de guerre qui avaient été commandés en Angleterre par le Gouvernement ottoman et qui ont été réquisitionnés par le Gouvernement britannique en 1914; elle renonce à toute réclamation de ce chef.

PARTIE III.

CLAUSES ÉCONOMIQUES.

Article 64.

Dans la présente Partie, l'expression "Puissances alliées" s'entend des Puissances contractantes autres que la Turquie; les termes "ressortissants alliés" comprennent les personnes physiques, les sociétés, associations et établissements, ressortissant aux Puissances contractantes autres que la Turquie, ou à un État ou territoire sous le protectorat d'une desdites Puissances.

Article 57.

Article 58.

Turkey also agrees not to claim from the British Government or its nationals the repayment of the sums paid for the warships ordered in England by the Ottoman Government which were requisitioned by the British Government in 1914, and renounces all claims in the matter.

PART III.

ECONOMIC CLAUSES.

Article 64.

In this part, the expression "Powers" means the Contracting Powers other than Turkey.

The term "Allied nationals" includes physical persons, companies and associations of the Contracting Powers other than Turkey, or of a State or territory under the protection of one of the said Powers.

Les dispositions de la présente Partie relatives au "ressortissants alliés" profiteront aux personnes qui, sans avoir la nationalité des Puissances alliées, ont, en raison de la protection dont elles étaient, en fait, l'objet de la part de ces Puissances, reçu des autorités ottomanes le même traitement que les ressortissants alliés et ont, de ce chef, subi des dommages.

SECTION I.

BIENS, DROITS ET INTÉRÊTS.

Article 65.

Les biens, droits et intérêts, qui existent encore et pourront être identifiés sur les territoires restés turcs à la date de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité, et qui appartiennent à des personnes étant, au 29 octobre 1914, ressortissants alliés, seront immédiatement restitués aux ayants droit, dans l'état où ils se trouvent.

Réciproquement, les biens, droits et intérêts, qui existent encore et pourront être identifiés sur les territoires placés sous la souveraineté ou le protectorat des Puissances alliées au 29 octobre 1914, ou sur des territoires détachés de l'Empire ottoman à la suite des guerres balkaniques et placés aujourd'hui sous la souveraineté desdites Puissances, et qui appartiennent à des ressortissants turcs, seront immédiatement restitués aux ayants droit, dans l'état où ils se trouvent. Il en sera de même des biens, droits et intérêts qui appartiennent à des ressortissants turcs sur les territoires détachés de l'Empire ottoman en vertu du présent Traité et qui auraient été l'objet de liquidations ou autres mesures exceptionnelles quelconques de la part des autorités des Puissances alliées.

Tous biens, droits et intérêts, qui sont situés sur un territoire détaché de l'Empire ottoman en vertu du présent Traité et qui, après avoir été l'objet d'une mesure exceptionnelle de guerre par le Gouvernement ottoman, sont actuellement entre les mains de la Puissance contractante exerçant l'autorité sur ledit territoire, et qui peuvent être identifiés, seront restitués à leur légitime propriétaire, dans l'état où ils se trouvent. Il en sera de même des biens immobiliers qui auraient été liquidés par la Puissance contractante exerçant l'autorité sur ledit territoire. Toutes autres revendications entre particuliers seront soumises à la juridiction compétente locale.

Tous litiges relatifs à l'identité ou à la restitution des biens réclamés seront soumis au Tribunal Arbitral Mixte prévu à l'article V de la présente Partie.

Article 66.

Pour l'exécution des dispositions de l'Article 65, alinéas 1 et 2, les Hautes Parties contractantes remettront, par la procédure la plus rapide, les ayants droit en la possession de leurs biens, droits et intérêts, libres des charges ou servitudes

The provisions of this Part relating to "Allied Nationals" shall benefit persons who, without having the nationality of one of the Allied Powers, have, in consequence of the protection which they in fact enjoyed at the hands of these Powers, received from the Ottoman authorities the same treatment as Allied nationals, and have, on this account, been prejudiced.

SECTION I.

PROPERTY, RIGHTS AND INTERESTS.

Article 65.

Property, rights and interests which still exist and can be identified in territories remaining Turkish at the date of the coming into force of the present Treaty, and which belong to persons who on the 29th October 1914, were Allied nationals, shall be immediately restored to the owners in their existing state.

Reciprocally, property, rights and interests which still exist and can be identified in territories subject to the sovereignty or protectorate of the Allied Powers on the 29th October 1914, or in territories detached from the Ottoman Empire after the Balkan wars and subject to-day to the sovereignty of any such Power, and which belong to Turkish nationals shall be immediately restored to the owners in their existing state. The same provision shall apply to property, rights and interests which belong to Turkish nationals in territories detached from the Ottoman Empire under the present Treaty, and which may have been subjected to liquidation or any other exceptional measure whatever on the part of the authorities of the Allied Powers.

All property, rights and interests situated in territory detached from the Ottoman Empire under the present Treaty, which, after having been subjected by the Ottoman Government to an exceptional war measure, are now in the hands of the Contracting Power exercising authority over the said territory, and which can be identified, shall be restored to their legitimate owners, in their existing state. The same provision shall apply to immovable property which may have been liquidated by the Contracting Power exercising authority over the said territory. All other claims between individuals shall be submitted to the competent local courts.

All disputes relating to the identity or the restitution of property to which a claim is made shall be submitted to the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal provided for in Section V of this Part.

Article 66.

In order to give effect to the provisions of the first and second paragraphs of Article 65 the High Contracting Parties will, by the most rapid procedure, restore the owners to the possession of their property, rights and interests free from dont ceux-ci auraient été grevés sans le consentement desdits ayants droit. Il appartiendra au Gouvernement de la Puissance effectuant la restitution, de pourvoir à l'indemnisation des tiers qui auraient acquis directement ou indirectement dudit Gouvernement et qui se trouveraient lésés par cette restitution. Les différends pouvant s'élever au sujet de cette indemnisation seront de la compétence des tribunaux de droit commun.

Dans tous les autres cas, il appartiendra aux tiers lésés d'agir contre qui de droit pour être indemnisés.

A cet effet, tous actes de disposition ou autres mesures exceptionnelles de guerre auxquelles les Hautes Parties contractantes auraient procédé à l'égard des biens, droits et intérêts ennemis, seront immédiatement levés et arrêtés s'il s'agit d'une liquidation non encore terminée. Les propriétaires réclamants recevront satisfaction par la restitution immédiate de leurs biens, droits et intérêts, dès que ceux-ci auront été identifiés.

Au cas où, à la date de la signature du présent Traité, les biens, droits et intérêts, dont la restitution est prévue par l'Article 65, se trouveraient avoir été liquidés par les autorités de l'une des Hautes Parties contractantes, celle-ci se trouvera libérée de l'obligation de restituer lesdits biens, droits et intérêts par le paiement à leur propriétaire du produit de la liquidation. Au cas où, sur la demande du propriétaire, le Tribunal Arbitral Mixte prévu à la Section V estimerait que la liquidation n'a pas été effectuée dans des conditions assurant la réalisation d'un juste prix, il pourra, à défaut d'accord entre les parties, augmenter le produit de la liquidation de telle somme qu'il jugera équitable. Lesdits biens, droits et intérêts seront restitués si le paiement n'est pas effectué dans un délai de deux mois à compter de l'accord avec le propriétaire ou de la décision du Tribunal Arbitral Mixte visé ci-dessus.

Article 70.

Les demandes fondées sur les Articles 65, 66 et 69 devront être introduites auprès des autorités compétentes dans le délai de six mois, et, à défaut d'accord, auprès du Tribunal Arbitral Mixte dans le délai de douze mois à partir de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité.

Article 71.

L'Empire britannique, la France, l'Italie, la Roumanie et l'Etat serbe-croate-slovène, ou leurs ressortissants, ayant introduit des réclamations ou actions auprès du Gouvernement ottoman au sujet de leurs biens, droits et intérêts antérieurement au 29 octobre 1914, les dispositions de la présente Section ne porteront point préjudice à ces réclamations ou actions. Il en any burdens or encumbrances with which such property, rights and interests may have been charged without the consent of the said owners. It will be the duty of the Government of the Power effecting the restitution to provide for the compensation of third parties who may have acquired the property directly or indirectly from the said Government and who may be injured by this restitution. Disputes which may arise in connection with such compensation shall be dealt with by the ordinary courts.

In all other cases it will be open to any third parties who may be injured to take action against whoever is responsible, in order to obtain compensation.

In order to give effect to these provisions all acts of transfer or other exceptional war measures, which the High Contracting Parties may have carried out in respect of enemy property, rights and interests, shall be immediately cancelled and stayed when liquidation has not yet been completed. Owners who make claims shall be satisfied by the immediate restitution of their property, rights and interests as soon as these shall have been identified.

When at the date of the signature of the present Treaty the property, rights and interests the restitution of which is provided for in Article 65 have been liquidated by the authorities of one of the High Contracting Parties, that Party shall be discharged from the obligation to restore the said property, rights and interests by payment of the proceeds of the liquidation to the owner. If, on application being made by the owner, the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal provided for by Section V finds that the liquidation was not effected in such conditions as to ensure the realisation of a fair price, it will have the power, in default of agreement between the parties, to order the addition to the proceeds of the liquidation of such amount as it shall consider equitable. The said property, rights and interests shall be restored if the payment is not made within two months from the agreement with the owner or from the decision of the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal mentioned above.

Article 70.

Claims based on Articles 65, 66 and 69, must be lodged with the competent authorities within six months, and, in default of agreement, with the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal within twelve months, from the coming into force of the present Treaty.

Article 71.

The British Empire, France, Roumania and the Serb-Croat-Slovene State or their nationals having begun claims or suits with regard to their property, rights and interests against the Ottoman Government before the 29th October, 1914, the provisions of this Section will not prejudice such claims or suits. Claims or suits begun against the British

Ces réclamations ou actions seront poursuivies auprès du Gouvernement turc et auprès des autres Gouvernements visés au présent Article dans les mêmes conditions, tout en tenant compte de l'abolition des Capitulations.

Article 77.

Contracts between Allied and Turkish nationals concluded after the 30th October, 1918, remain in force and will be governed by the ordinary law.

Contracts duly concluded with the Constantinople Government between the 30th October, 1918, and the 16th March, 1920, also remain in force and will be governed by the ordinary law.

All contracts and arrangements duly concluded after the 16th March, 1920, with the Constantinople Government concerning territories which remained under the effective control of the said Government, shall be submitted to the Grand National Assembly of Turkey for approval, if the parties concerned make application within three months from the coming into force of the present Treaty. Payments made under such contracts shall be duly credited to the party who has made them.

If approval is not granted, the party concerned shall, if the circumstances demand it, be entitled to compensation corresponding to the direct loss which has been actually suffered; such compensation, in default of an amicable agreement, shall be fixed by the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal.

The provisions of this Article are not applicable either to concessionary contracts or to transfers of concessions.

Article 78.

Tous les différends déjà existants, ou pouvant s'élever avant l'expiration du délai de six mois prévu ci-après, au sujet des contrats autres que les contrats de concession intervenus entre parties devenues par la suite ennemies, seront réglés par le Tribunal Arbitral Mixte, à l'exception des différends qui, par application des lois des Puissances neutres, seraient de la compétence des tribunaux nationaux de ces Puissances. En ce dernier cas, ces différends seront réglés par ces tribunaux nationaux à l'exclusion du Tribunal Arbitral Mixte. Les plaintes relatives aux différends, qui, en vertu du présent Article, sont de la compétence du Tribunal Arbitral Mixte, devront être présentées audit Tribunal dans un délai de six mois à compter de la date de constitution de ce Tribunal.

Ce délai expiré, les différends qui n'auraient pas été soumis au Tribunal Arbitral Mixte seront réglés par les juridictions compétentes d'après le droit commun.

Les dispositions du présent Article ne sont pas applicables lorsque toutes les parties au contrat résidaient dans le même pays pendant la guerre et y disposaient librement de leurs personnes et de leurs biens, ni lorsqu'il s'agit d'un différend au sujet duquel un jugement a été rendu par un tribunal compétent antérieurement à la date à laquelle les parties sont devenues ennemies.

Article 79.

Sur le territoire des Hautes parties contractantes, dans les rapports entre ennemis, tous délais quelconques de prescription, de péremption ou forclusion de procédure, qu'ils aient commencé à courir avant le début de la guerre ou après, seront considérés comme ayant été suspendus depuis le 29 octobre 1914 jusqu'à l'expiration de trois mois après la mise en vigueur du présent Traité.

Cette disposition s'applique notamment aux délais de présentation de coupons d'intérêts et de dividendes, et de présentation, en vue du remboursement, des valeurs sorties au tirage ou remboursables à tout autre titre.

En ce qui concerne la Roumanie, les délais ci-dessus seront considérés comme ayant été suspendus à partir du 27 août 1916.

Article 80.

Dans les rapports entre ennemis, aucun effet de commerce émis avant la guerre ne sera considéré comme invalide par le seul fait qu'il n'aurait pas été présenté pour acceptation ou pour paiement dans les délais voulus, pour défaut d'avis aux tireurs ou aux endosseurs de non-acceptation ou de non-paiement, ni en raison du défaut de protest ni pour défaut d'accomplissement d'une formalité quel-conque pendant la guerre.

Si la période pendant laquelle un effet de commerce aurait dû être présenté à l'acceptation ou au paiement, ou pendant

Article 78.

All disputes which already exist, or may arise within the period of six months mentioned below, relating to contracts, other than concessionary contracts, between parties who subsequently became enemies, shall be determined by the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal, with the exception of disputes which, in accordance with the laws of neutral Powers, are within the competence of the national courts of those Powers. In the latter case, such disputes shall be determined by the said national courts, to the exclusion of the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal. Applications relating to disputes which, under this Article, are within the competence of the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal, must be presented to the said Tribunal within a period of six months from the date of its establishment.

After the expiration of this period disputes which have not been submitted to the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal shall be determined by the competent courts in accordance with the ordinary law.

The provisions of this Article do not apply to cases in which all the parties to the contract resided in the same country during the war and there freely disposed of their persons and their property, nor to disputes in respect of which judgment was given by a competent court before the date on which the parties became enemies.

Article 79.

All periods whatever of prescription or limitation of right of action, whether they began to run before or after the outbreak of war, shall be treated, in the territory of the High Contracting Parties so far as regards relations between enemies, as having been suspended from the 29th October, 1914, until the expiration of three months after the coming into force of the present Treaty.

This provision applies, in particular, to periods of time allowed for the presentation of interest or dividend coupons, or for the presentation for payment of securities drawn for redemption or repayable on any other ground.

As regards Roumania, the abovementioned periods shall be considered as having been suspended as from the 27th August, 1916.

Article 80.

As between enemies no negotiable instrument made before the war shall be deemed to have become invalid by reason only of failure within the required time to present the instrument for acceptance or payment, or to give notice of non-acceptance or non-payment to drawers or endorsers, or to protest the instrument, nor by reason of failure to complete any formality during the war.

When the period within which a negotiable instrument should have been presented for acceptance or payment, or within laquelle l'avis de non-acceptation ou de non-paiement aurait dû être donné aux tireurs ou endosseurs, ou pendant laquelle il aurait dû être protesté, est échue pendant la guerre, et si la partie qui aurait dû présenter ou protester l'effet ou donner avis de la non-acceptation ou du non-paiement ne l'a pas fait pendant la guerre, il lui sera accordé trois mois après la mise en vigueur du présent Traité pour présenter l'effet, donner avis de non-acceptation ou de non-paiement ou dresser protêt.

Article 51.

Les ventes effectuées pendant la guerre en réalisation de nantissements ou d'hypothèques constitués avant la guerre et garantissant des dettes devenues exigibles, seront réputées acquises, encore que toutes les formalités requises pour avertir le débiteur n'aient pu être observées et sous réserve expresse du droit dudit débiteur d'assigner le créancier devant le Tribunal Arbitral Mixte en reddition de comptes à peine de tous dommages et intérêts.

Le Tribunal aura pour mission d'apurer les comptes entre les parties, de vérifier les conditions dans lesquelles le bien donné en nantissement ou en hypothèque a été vendu et de mettre à la charge du créancier la réparation du préjudice qu'aurait subi le débiteur par suite de la vente, si le créancier a agi de mauvaise foi, ou s'il n'a pas fait toutes diligences en son pouvoir pour éviter de recourir à la vente, ou pour que celle-ci soit effectuée dans des conditions assurant la réalisation d'un juste prix.

La présente disposition ne sera applicable qu'entre ennemis et ne s'étendra pas aux opérations ci-dessus visées qui auraient été effectuées postérieurement au 1 mai 1923.

Article 52.

Au sens de la présente Section, les personnes parties à un contrat seront considérées comme ennemies à partir de la date à laquelle le commerce entre elles sera devenu impossible en fait ou aura été interdit ou sera devenu illégal en vertu des lois, décrets ou règlements auxquels une de ces parties était soumise.

Par dérogation aux Articles 73 à 75, 79 et 80, seront soumis au droit commun les contrats conclus sur le territoire de l'une des Hautes Parties contractantes entre personnes ennemies (y compris les sociétés) ou leurs agents, si ce territoire était pays ennemi pour l'un des contractants qui y est resté pendant la guerre en y pouvant librement disposer de sa personne et de ses biens.

ANNEXE.

I.—ASSURANCE SUR LA VIE.

§ 1.

Les contrats d'assurances sur la vie, passés entre un assureur et une personne which notice of non-acceptance or non-payment should have been given to the drawers or endorsers, or within which the instrument should have been protested, has expired during the war, and when the party who should have presented or protested the instrument or given notice of non-acceptance or non-payment, has failed to do so during the war, a period of three months from the coming into force of the present Treaty shall be allowed within which the presentation, notice of non-acceptance or non-payment, or protest may be made.

Article 51.

Sales effected during the war in order to realise pledges or mortgages created before the war as security for debts which have become payable, shall be deemed valid, although it may not have been possible to perform all the formalities required for notifying the debtor, subject to the express right of the said debtor to summon the creditor before the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal to render accounts, failing which the creditor will be liable to be cast in damages.

It shall be the duty of the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal to settle the accounts between the parties to investigate the conditions under which the property pledged or mortgaged was sold, and to order the creditor to make good any loss suffered by the debtor as a result of the sale if the creditor acted in bad faith or if he did not take all steps in his power to avoid having recourse to a sale or to cause the sale to be conducted in such conditions as to ensure the realisation of a fair price.

The present provision is applicable only between enemies and does not extend to transactions referred to above which may have been carried out after the 1st May, 1923.

Article 52.

For the purposes of the present Section, the parties to a contract shall be regarded as enemies from the date on which trading between them became impossible in fact or was prohibited or became unlawful under laws, orders or regulations to which one of the parties was subject.

By way of exception to Articles 73—75, 79 and 80, contracts shall be governed by the ordinary law if they were concluded within the territory of one of the High Contracting Parties between enemies (including companies) or their agents, if the territory was an enemy country at the time of the contracting parties who were there during the war and was the territory in which they disposed freely of his person and property.

ANNEX.

I. LIFE ASSURANCE.

Paragraph 1.

Life assurance contracts entered into between an insurer and a person who devenue par la suite ennemie, ne seront pas considérés comme annulés par l'ouverture des hostilités ou par le fait que la personne est devenue ennemie.

Toute somme assurée devenue effectivement exigible pendant la guerre, aux termes d'un contrat qui, en vertu de l'alinéa précédent, n'est pas considéré comme annulé, sera recouvrable après la guerre. Cette somme sera augmentée des intérêts à 5 p. o/o l'an depuis la date de son exigibilité jusqu'au jour du paiement.

Si le contrat est devenu caduc pendant la guerre par suite du non-paiement des primes, ou s'il est devenu sans effet par suite du non-accomplissement des clauses du contrat, l'assuré ou ses représentants ou ayants droit auront le droit, à tout moment, pendant douze mois à dater du jour de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité, de réclamer à l'assureur la valeur de rachat de la police au jour de sa caducité ou de son annulation, augmentée des intérêts à 5 p. o/o l'an.

Les ressortissants turcs dont les contrats d'assurance sur la vie, souscrits antérieurement au 29 octobre 1914, ont été annulés ou réduits, antérieurement au présent Traité, pour non-paiement des primes, conformément aux dispositions desdits contrats, auront la faculté pendant un délai de trois mois, à compter de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité, et s'ils sont alors vivants, de rétablir leurs polices pour le plein du capital assuré. A cet effet, ils devront, après avoir passé devant le médecin de la Compagnie une visite médicale jugée satisfaisante par celle-ci, verser les primes arriérées augmentées des intérêts composés à 5 p. o/o.

Il est entendu que les contrats d'assurances sur la vie, souscrits en monnaie autre que la livre turque, conclus avant le 29 octobre 1914 entre les sociétés actuellement ressortissantes d'une Puissance alliée et les ressortissants turcs, pour lesquels des primes ont été payées antérieurement et postérieurement au 18 novembre 1915, ou même seulement avant cette date, seront réglés : 1° en arrêtant les droits de l'assuré, conformément aux conditions générales de la police, pour la période antérieure au 18 novembre 1915, dans la monnaie stipulée au contrat, telle qu'elle a cours dans le pays dont cette monnaie émane (par exemple, toute somme stipulée en francs, en francs or, ou en francs effectifs, sera payée en francs français) ; 2° en livres turques papier—la livre turque censée valoir le pair d'avant-guerre—pour la période postérieure au 18 novembre 1915. Les ressortissants turcs dont les contrats sont conclus dans une monnaie autre que la monnaie turque, justifiant avoir continué depuis le 18 novembre 1915 à acquitter leurs primes en la monnaie stipulée aux contrats, lesdits contrats seront réglés dans cette même monnaie, telle qu'elle a cours dans le pays dont elle émane, même pour la période postérieure au 18 novembre 1915.

subsequently became an enemy shall not be deemed to have been dissolved by the outbreak of war or by the fact of the person becoming an enemy.

Every sum which, during the war, became due upon a contract deemed not to have been dissolved in accordance with the preceding paragraph, shall be recoverable after the war. This sum shall be increased by interest at 5 per cent. per annum from the date of its becoming due up to the day of payment.

If the contract has lapsed during the war, owing to non-payment of premiums or has become void from breach of the conditions of the contract, the assured, or his representatives, or the persons entitled, shall have the right at any moment within twelve months from the coming into force of the present Treaty to claim from the insurer the surrender value of the policy at the date of its lapse or annulation, together with interest at 5 per cent. per annum.

Turkish nationals whose life insurance contracts entered into before the 29th October 1914, have been cancelled or reduced before the Treaty for non-payment of premiums in accordance with the provisions of the said contracts, shall have the right, within three months from the coming into force of the present Treaty, if they are still alive, to restore their policies for the whole of the amount assured. For this purpose they must, after having undergone a medical examination by the doctor of the company, the result of which the company considers satisfactory, pay the premiums in arrear with compound interest at 5 per cent.

Paragraph 2.

It is understood that life assurance contracts in money other than the Turkish pound, entered into before the 29th October 1914, between companies possessing the nationality of an Allied Power and Turkish nationals, in respect of which the premiums have been paid before and after the 18th November 1915, or even only before that date, shall be regulated, first, by determining the rights of the assured in accordance with the general conditions of the policy for the period before the 18th November 1915, in the currency stipulated in the contract at the current rate in its country of origin (for example, every amount stipulated in francs, in gold francs or in "francs effectifs" will be paid in French francs), secondly, for the period after the 18th November 1915, in Turkish pounds paper—the Turkish pound being taken at the pre-war par value.

If Turkish nationals whose contracts were entered into in currency other than Turkish currency show that they have continued to pay their premiums since the 18th November 1915, in the currency stipulated in the contracts, the said contracts shall be settled in the same currency at the current rate in its country of origin, even for the period after the 18th November 1915.

Les ressortissants turcs dont les contrats, conclus avant le 29 octobre 1914, dans une monnaie autre que la monnaie turque, avec des sociétés actuellement ressortissantes d'une Puissance alliée sont, par suite du paiement des primes, encore en vigueur, auront la faculté, pendant un délai de trois mois à compter de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité, de rétablir leurs polices pour le plein du capital dans la monnaie stipulée dans leur contrat telle qu'elle a cours dans le pays dont elle émane. A cet effet, ils devront verser en cette monnaie les primes échues depuis le 18 novembre 1915. Par contre, les primes effectivement versées par eux en livres turques papier depuis ladite date leur seront remboursées dans la même monnaie.

En ce qui concerne les assurances contractées en livres turques, le règlement sera fait en livres turques papier.

§ 4.

Les dispositions des paragraphes 2 et 3 ne seront pas applicables aux assurés qui, par une convention expresse, auront déjà régularisé avec la société d'assurance la valorisation de leurs polices et le mode de paiement de leurs primes, ni à ceux dont les polices seront définitivement réglées à la mise en vigueur du présent Traité.

§ 5.

Pour l'application des paragraphes précédents seront considérés comme contrats d'assurance sur la vie les contrats d'assurance qui se basent sur les probabilités de la vie humaine combinées avec le taux d'intérêt pour le calcul des engagements réciproques des deux parties.

II.—ASSURANCES MARITIMES.

Ne sont pas considérés comme annulés, réserve des dispositions qui y sont contenues, les contrats d'assurance maritime au cas où le risque avait commencé à courir avant que les parties fussent devenues ennemies et à la condition qu'il ne s'agisse pas de couvrir des sinistres résultant d'actes de guerre accomplis par la Puissance à laquelle ressortit l'assureur ou par les alliés de cette Puissance.

III.—ASSURANCE CONTRE L'INCENDIE
ET AUTRES ASSURANCES.

Ne sont pas considérés comme annulés, sous la réserve énoncée au paragraphe précédent, les contrats d'assurance contre l'incendie ainsi que tous autres contrats d'assurance.

Turkish nationals whose contracts, entered into before the 29th October, 1914, in currency other than Turkish currency with companies possessing the nationality of an Allied Power are owing to payment of premiums, still in force, shall have the right within three months after the coming into force of the present Treaty to restore their policies for the full amount, in the currency stipulated in their contract at the current rate in its country of origin. For this purpose they must pay in this currency the premiums which have become due since the 18th November 1915. On the other hand, the premiums actually paid by them in Turkish pounds paper since that date will be repaid to them in the same currency.

Paragraph 3.

As regards insurances in Turkish pounds, settlement shall be made in Turkish pounds paper.

Paragraph 4.

The provisions of paragraphs 2 and 3 do not apply to policy holders who, by an express agreement, have already settled with the insurance companies the fixation of the value of their policies and the method of payment of their premiums, nor to those whose policies shall have been finally settled at the date of the coming into force of the present Treaty.

Paragraph 5.

For the purposes of the preceding paragraphs, insurance contracts shall be considered as contracts of life insurance when they depend on the probabilities of human life, combined with the rate of interest, for the calculation of the reciprocal engagement between the two parties.

II.—MARINE INSURANCE.

Paragraph 6.

Subject to the provisions therein contained, contracts of marine insurance will not be deemed to have been dissolved where the risk had attached before the parties became enemies, but the policy shall not be deemed to cover losses due to belligerent action by the Power of which the insurer was a national or by the allies of that Power.

III.—FIRE AND OTHER INSURANCES.

Paragraph 7.

Subject to the reserve contained in the preceding paragraph, fire insurance contracts and all other forms of insurance contracts are not deemed to be dissolved.

SECTION III.

DETTES.

Article 84.

Les Hautes Parties contractantes sont d'accord pour reconnaître que les dettes exigibles avant la guerre, ou devenues exigibles pendant la guerre, en vertu de contrats passés avant la guerre, et restées impayées par suite de la guerre, doivent être réglées et payées dans les conditions prévues aux contrats et dans la monnaie convenue, telle qu'elle a cours dans le pays où elle est émise.

Sans préjudice des dispositions de l'Annexe à la Section II de la présente Partie, il est entendu qu'en cas où des paiements à effectuer en vertu d'un contrat d'avant-guerre seraient la représentation de sommes perçues en tout ou en partie au cours de la guerre dans une monnaie autre que celle indiquée au dit contrat, ces paiements pourront être effectués par le versement, dans la monnaie où elles ont été perçues, des sommes effectivement perçues. Cette disposition ne portera pas atteinte aux stipulations contraires qui, avant la mise en vigueur du présent Traité, seraient intervenues à l'amiable entre les parties intéressées.

Article 85.

La Dette Publique Ottomane est, d'un commun accord, laissée en dehors de la présente Section et des autres Sections de la présente Partie (Clauses Economiques).

SECTION IV.

PROPRIÉTÉ INDUSTRIELLE, LITTÉRAIRE OU ARTISTIQUE.

Article 86.

Sous réserve des stipulations du présent Traité, les droits de propriété industrielle, littéraire ou artistique, tels qu'ils existaient au 1 août 1914 conformément à la législation de chacun des pays contractants seront rétablis ou restaurés à partir de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité, dans les territoires des Hautes Parties contractantes, en faveur des personnes qui en étaient bénéficiaires au moment où l'état de guerre a commencé d'exister, ou de leurs ayants droit. De même, les droits qui, si la guerre n'avait pas eu lieu, auraient pu être acquis pendant la durée de la guerre, à la suite d'une demande légale pour la protection de la propriété industrielle ou de la publication d'œuvre littéraire ou artistique, seront reconnus, rétablis en faveur des personnes qui y auraient des titres à partir de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité.

Sans préjudice des droits qui doivent être restaurés en vertu de la disposition ci-dessus, tous actes (y compris l'octroi de licences) faits en vertu des mesures spéciales qui auraient été prises pendant

SECTION III.

DEBTS.

Article 84.

The High Contracting parties are in agreement in recognising that debts which were payable before the war or which became payable during the war under contracts entered into before the war, and which remained unpaid owing to the war, must be settled and paid, in accordance with the provisions of the contracts, in the currency agreed upon, at the rate current in its country of origin.

Without prejudice to the provisions of the Annex to Section II of this part, it is agreed that where payments to be made under a pre-war contract are represented by sums collected during the war in whole or in part in a currency other than that mentioned in the said contract, such payments can be made by handing over the sums actually collected, in the currency in which they were collected. This provision shall not affect settlements inconsistent with the foregoing provisions arrived at by voluntary agreement between the parties before the coming into force of the present Treaty.

Article 85.

The Ottoman Public Debt is by general agreement left outside the scope of this Section and of the other Sections of this Part (Economic Clauses).

SECTION IV.

INDUSTRIAL, LITERARY AND ARTISTIC PROPERTY.

Article 86.

Subject to the stipulations of the present Treaty, rights of industrial, literary and artistic property as they existed on the 1st August 1914, in accordance with the law of each of the contracting countries, shall be re-established or restored as from the coming into force of the present Treaty in the territories of the High Contracting Parties in favour of the persons entitled to the benefit of them at the moment when the state of war commenced, or of their legal representatives. Equally, rights which, but for the war, could have been acquired during the war, by means of an application legally made for the protection of industrial property or of the publication of a literary or artistic work, shall be recognised and established in favour of those persons who would have been entitled thereto, from the coming into force of the present Treaty.

Without prejudice to the rights which are required to be restored in accordance with the above provision, all acts (including the grant of licences) done by virtue of the special measures taken during the la guerre par une autorité législative, exécutive ou administrative d'une Puissance alliée à l'égard des droits des ressortissants ottomans en matière de propriété industrielle, littéraire ou artistique, demeureront valables et continueront à avoir leurs pleins effets. Cette stipulation s'appliquera mutatis mutandis aux mesures correspondantes des autorités turques prises à l'égard des droits des ressortissants d'une Puissance alliée quelconque.

Article 87.

Un délai minimum d'une année, à partir de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité, sans surtaxe ni pénalité d'aucune sorte, sera accordé aux ressortissants turcs sur le territoire de chacune des autres Puissances contractantes et aux ressortissants de ces Puissances en Turquie pour accomplir tout acte, remplir toute formalité, payer toute taxe et généralement satisfaire à toute obligation prescrite par les lois et les règlements de chaque Etat pour conserver ou obtenir les droits de propriété industrielle déjà acquis au 1 août 1914 ou qui, si la guerre n'avait pas eu lieu, auraient pu être acquis depuis cette date, à la suite d'une demande faite, avant la guerre ou pendant sa durée, ainsi que pour y former opposition.

Les droits de propriété industrielle qui auraient été frappés de déchéance par suite d'un défaut d'accomplissement d'un acte, d'exécution d'une formalité ou de paiement d'une taxe, seront remis en vigueur, sous la réserve toutefois, en ce qui concerne les brevets et dessins, que chaque Puissance pourra prendre les mesures qu'elle jugerait équitablement nécessaires pour la sauvegarde des droits des tiers qui auraient exploité ou employé des brevets ou des dessins pendant le temps où ils étaient frappés de déchéance.

La période comprise entre le 1 août 1914 et la date de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité, n'entrera pas en ligne de compte dans le délai prévu pour la mise en exploitation d'un brevet ou pour l'usage de marques de fabrique ou de commerce ou de dessins, et il est convenu en outre qu'aucun brevet, marque de fabrique ou de commerce, ou dessin qui était encore en vigueur au 1 août 1914 ne pourra être frappé de déchéance ou d'annulation, du seul chef de non-exploitation ou de non-usage avant l'expiration d'un délai de deux ans à partir de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité.

Article 88.

Aucune action ne pourra être intentée ni aucune revendication exécutée, d'une part, par des ressortissants turcs ou par des personnes résident ou exerçant leur industrie en Turquie, et, d'autre part, par des ressortissants des Puissances alliées ou des personnes résident ou exerçant leur industrie sur le territoire de ces Puissances, ni par les tiers auxquels ces personnes auraient cédé leurs droits pendant la guerre, à raison de faits qui se seraient war by a legislative, executive or administrative authority of an Allied Power in regard to the rights of Turkish nationals in respect of industrial, literary or artistic property, shall remain in force and continue to have their full effect. This provision applies mutatis mutandis to corresponding measures taken by Turkish authorities in regard to the rights of the nationals of any Allied Power.

Article 87.

A minimum of one year from the coming into force of the present Treaty shall be granted, without surtax or penalty of any kind, to Turkish nationals in the territory of each of the other Contracting Powers, and to the nationals of these Powers in Turkey, within which they may accomplish any act, fulfil any formality, pay any fees, and generally satisfy any obligation prescribed by the laws and regulations of the respective States for preserving or obtaining or opposing the grant of rights to industrial property which had already been acquired on the 1st August, 1914, or which, but for the war, might have been acquired since that date by means of an application made before or during the war.

Rights to industrial property which have lapsed by reason of any failure to accomplish any act, fulfil any formality, or pay any fees shall be revived, but subject, in the case of patents and designs, to the adoption of such measures as each power may deem reasonably necessary for the protection of the rights of third parties who have exploited or made use of patents or designs since they had lapsed.

The period from the 1st August 1914 until the coming into force of the present Treaty shall be excluded in calculating the time within which a patent has to be exploited or a trade-mark or design used, and it is further agreed that no patent, trade-mark or design in force on the 1st August 1914, shall be subject to revocation or cancellation by reason only of the failure to exploit such patent or use such trade-mark or design, for two years after the coming into force of the present Treaty.

Article 88.

No action shall be brought, nor claim made on the one hand by Turkish nationals or persons residing or carrying on business in Turkey, and on the other hand by nationals of the Allied Powers or persons residing or carrying on their business in the territory of these powers, nor by third parties having derived title during the war from such persons, by reason of any occurrence which has taken place within the territory of the other produits sur le territoire de l'autre partie, entre la date de l'état de guerre et celle de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité et qui auraient pu être considérés comme portant atteinte à des droits de propriété industrielle ou de propriété littéraire ou artistique ayant existé à un moment quelconque pendant la guerre ou qui seront rétablis conformément à l'Article 86.

Parmi les faits ci-dessus visés, sont compris l'utilisation par les Gouvernements des Hautes Parties contractantes ou par toute personne pour le compte de ces Gouvernements ou avec leur assentiment de droits de propriété industrielle, littéraire ou artistique, aussi bien que la vente, la mise en vente ou l'emploi de produits, appareils, articles ou objets quelconques auxquels s'appliqueraient ces droits.

Article 89.

Les contrats de licence d'exploitation de droits de propriété industrielle ou de reproduction d'œuvres littéraires ou artistiques, conclus avant l'état de guerre entre les ressortissants des Puissances alliées ou des personnes résidant sur leurs territoires ou y exerçant leur industrie d'une part, et des ressortissants ottomans, d'autre part, seront considérés comme résiliés à dater de l'état de guerre entre la Turquie et la Puissance alliée. Mais, dans tous les cas, le bénéficiaire primitif d'un contrat de ce genre aura le droit, dans un délai de six mois à dater de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité, d'exiger du titulaire des droits la concession d'une nouvelle licence dont les conditions, à défaut d'entente entre les parties, seront fixées par le Tribunal Arbitral Mixte prévu à la Section V de la présente Partie. Le Tribunal pourra, s'il y a lieu, fixer alors le montant des redevances qui lui paraîtrait justifié en raison de l'utilisation des droits pendant la guerre.

Article 90.

Les habitants des territoires détachés de la Turquie en vertu du présent Traité conserveront, nonobstant cette séparation et le changement de nationalité qui en résultera, la pleine et entière jouissance en Turquie de tous les droits de propriété industrielle et de propriété littéraire et artistique, dont ils étaient titulaires, suivant la législation ottomane, au moment de la séparation.

Les droits de propriété industrielle, littéraire et artistique en vigueur sur les territoires détachés de la Turquie en vertu du présent Traité au moment de cette séparation ou, qui seront rétablis ou restaurés par l'application de l'Article 86, seront reconnus par l'Etat auquel sera transféré ledit territoire et demeureront en vigueur sur ce territoire pour la durée qui leur sera accordée suivant la législation ottomane.

party, between the date of the beginning of a state of war and that of the coming into force of the present Treaty, which might be held to constitute an infringement of rights of industrial property or rights of literary or artistic property either existing at any time during the war or revived under the provisions of Article 86.

Among the occurrences referred to above are included the use by the Governments or the High Contracting Parties, or by any person acting on their behalf, or with their consent, of rights of industrial, literary or artistic property, as well as the sale, the offering for sale or the use of products, apparatus, or any articles whatsoever to which these rights apply.

Article 89.

Licences for the use of industrial property, or for the reproduction of literary or artistic works, granted before the war by or to nationals of the Allied Powers or persons residing in their territories, or carrying on business therein, on the one hand, to or by Turkish nationals on the other hand, shall be considered as cancelled as from the date of the beginning of a state of war between Turkey and the Allied Power concerned. But in any case the former beneficiary of a licence of this kind shall have the right within a period of six months from the coming into force of the present Treaty to require from the proprietor of the rights the grant of a new licence, the conditions of which, in default of agreement between the parties, shall be fixed by the mixed Arbitral Tribunal referred to in Section V of this Part. The Tribunal shall have the power, where the circumstances demand it, to fix at the same time the amount which it considers fair payment for the use of the property during the war.

Article 90.

The inhabitants of territories detached from Turkey under the present Treaty, shall, notwithstanding this transfer and the change of nationality consequent thereon, continue in complete enjoyment in Turkey of all the rights in industrial, literary and artistic property to which they were entitled under Ottoman law at the time of transfer.

Rights of industrial, literary and artistic property which are in existence in territories detached from Turkey under the present Treaty at the time of separation, or which are re-established or restored by the provisions of Article 86, shall be recognised by the State to which the said territory is transferred, and shall remain in existence in that territory for the same period of time as that which they would have enjoyed under Ottoman law.

SECTION V.

TRIBUNAL ARBITRAL MIXTE.

Article 92.

Un Tribunal Arbitral Mixte sera constitué entre chacune des Puissances Alliées, d'une part, et la Turquie, d'autre part, dans le délai de trois mois à dater de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité.

Chacun de ces tribunaux sera composé de trois membres, dont deux respectivement nommés par chacun des Gouvernements intéressés, qui auront la faculté de désigner plusieurs personnes parmi lesquelles ils choisiront celle appelée à siéger selon les cas, comme membre du Tribunal. Le Président sera nommé après accord entre les deux Gouvernements intéressés.

Au cas où cet accord ne serait pas réalisé dans le délai de deux mois à compter de la mise en vigueur du présent Traité, ledit Président sera désigné, à la demande d'un des Gouvernements intéressés, parmi les personnes ressortissant à des Puissances demeurées neutres pendant la guerre, par le Président de la Cour permanente de Justice Internationale de la Haye.

Si, dans ledit délai de deux mois, un des Gouvernements intéressés ne nomme pas le membre devant le représenter au Tribunal, il appartiendra au Conseil de la Société des Nations de procéder à la nomination de ce membre, à la demande de l'autre Gouvernement intéressé.

En cas de décès ou de démission d'un membre du Tribunal ou si un membre du Tribunal se trouve, pour une raison quelconque, dans l'impossibilité de remplir ses fonctions, il sera pourvu à son remplacement selon le mode fixé pour sa nomination, le délai de deux mois qui est prévu comme tant à courir du jour de décès, de la démission ou de l'impossibilité dûment constatée.

Article 93.

Les Tribunaux Arbitraux Mixtes auront leur siège à Constantinople. Si le nombre et la nature des affaires le justifient, les Gouvernements intéressés auront la faculté de créer dans chaque Tribunal une ou plusieurs sections supplémentaires, dont le siège pourra être fixé dans tel lieu qu'il appartiendra. Chacune de ces sections sera composée d'un Vice-Président et de deux membres nommés comme il est dit à l'Article 92, alinéas 2 à 5.

Chaque Gouvernement désignera un ou plusieurs agents pour le représenter devant le Tribunal.

Si, après trois ans à compter de la constitution d'un Tribunal Arbitral Mixte ou d'une de ses Sections, ce Tribunal ou cette Section n'a pas achevé ses travaux et si la Puissance, sur le territoire de laquelle ledit Tribunal ou ladite Section a son siège, le demande, ce siège sera transféré hors de ce territoire.

SECTION V.

MIXED ARBITRAL TRIBUNAL.

Article 92.

Within three months from the date of the coming into force of the present Treaty, a Mixed Arbitral Tribunal shall be established between each of the Allied powers, on the one hand, and Turkey, on the other hand.

Each of these Tribunals shall be composed of three members, two being appointed respectively by each of the Governments concerned, who shall be entitled to designate several persons from whom, according to the case in question, they will choose one to sit as a member of the Tribunal. The president shall be chosen by agreement between the two Governments concerned.

In case of failure to reach agreement within two months from the coming into force of the present Treaty, the president shall be appointed, upon the request of one of the Governments concerned, from among nationals of Powers which remained neutral during the war, by the President of the Permanent Court of International Justice at The Hague.

If within the said period of two months one of the Governments concerned does not appoint a member to represent it on the Tribunal, the Council of the League of Nations will have power to proceed to the appointment of such member upon the request of the other Government concerned.

If a member of the Tribunal should die or resign or for any reason become unable to perform his duties, he shall be replaced by the method laid down for his appointment, the above period of two months running from the date of death, resignation or inability as duly verified.

Article 93.

The seat of the Mixed Arbitral Tribunals shall be at Constantinople. If the number and character of the cases justify it, the Governments concerned shall be entitled to create in each Tribunal one or more additional Sections, the seat of which shall be in whatever place may be convenient. Each of these Sections shall be composed of a vice-president and two members appointed as laid down in the second, third, fourth and fifth paragraphs of Article 92.

Each Government shall appoint one or more agents to represent it before the Tribunal.

If, after three years from the establishment of a Mixed Arbitral Tribunal, or of one of its Sections, such Tribunal or Section has not finished its work, and if the Power on whose territory such Tribunal or Section has its seat so requests, the seat shall be removed from such territory.

Article 94.

Les Tribunaux Arbitraux Mixtes, créés en vertu des Articles 92 et 93, jugeront les différends qui sont de leur compétence en vertu du présent Traité.

La décision de la majorité des membres sera celle du Tribunal.

Les Hautes Parties contractantes conviennent de considérer les décisions des Tribunaux Arbitraux Mixtes comme définitives, et de les rendre obligatoires pour leurs ressortissants et d'en assurer l'exécution sur leurs territoires dès que la notification des sentences leur sera parvenue, sans qu'il soit besoin d'aucune procédure d'exequatur.

Les Hautes Parties contractantes s'engagent en outre à ce que leurs tribunaux et autorités prêtent directement aux Tribunaux Arbitraux Mixtes toute l'aide qui sera en leur pouvoir, spécialement en ce qui concerne la transmission des notifications et la réunion des preuves.

Article 95.

Les Tribunaux Arbitraux Mixtes seront guidés par la justice, l'équité et la bonne foi.

Chaque Tribunal fixera la langue à employer devant lui en prescrivant les traductions nécessaires pour assurer la parfaite intelligence des affaires; il établira les règles et les délais de la procédure à suivre devant lui. Les règles devront observer les principes suivants :

1. La procédure comportera respectivement la production d'un mémoire et d'un contre-mémoire, avec faculté de présenter une réplique et une contre-réplique. Si l'une des parties demande à présenter ou à faire présenter des observations orales, elle y sera autorisée sous réserve de la faculté accordée, en pareil cas, à l'autre partie d'y procéder également.
2. Le Tribunal aura tout pouvoir d'ordonner des enquêtes, des productions de pièces, des expertises, de procéder à des descentes sur lieux, de requérir tous renseignements, d'entendre tous témoins et de demander aux parties ou à leurs représentants toutes explications verbales ou écrites.
3. Sauf stipulation contraire dans le présent Traité, aucune réclamation ne sera admise après l'expiration du délai de six mois à compter de la constitution du Tribunal, si ce n'est sur autorisation spéciale donnée par une décision du dit Tribunal et exceptionnellement justifiée par des raisons de distance ou de force majeure.

Article 94.

The Mixed Arbitral Tribunals established pursuant to Articles 92 and 93 shall decide all questions within their competence under the present Treaty.

Decisions shall be taken by a majority.

The High Contracting Parties agree to regard the decisions of the Mixed Arbitral Tribunals as final and conclusive, and to render them binding upon their nationals, and to ensure their enforcement in their respective territories as soon as the decisions of the Tribunals are notified to them, without it being necessary to have them declared executory.

The High Contracting Parties further undertake that their Tribunals and authorities shall directly assist the Mixed Arbitral Tribunals in every way that is in their power, particularly as regards the transmission of notices and the collection of evidence.

Article 95.

The Mixed Arbitral Tribunals shall be guided by justice, equity and good faith.

Each Tribunal will determine the language to be used before it, and shall order such translations to be made as are necessary to ensure that the proceedings are completely understood; it will lay down rules and time limits for the procedure to be observed. These rules must be based on the following principles :—

1. The procedure shall include the presentation of a memorial and a counter-memorial respectively, with the option of presenting a reply and a rejoinder. If either of the parties asks for leave to present an oral argument he will be permitted to do so; in such case the other party will have the same right.
2. The Tribunal shall have full power to order enquiries, the production of documents, and expert examinations, to make a view, to demand any information, to hear any witnesses and to ask the parties or their representatives for any verbal or written explanations.
3. Subject to any contrary provision in the present Treaty, no claim shall be admitted after the expiry of a period of six months from the establishment of the Tribunal, except upon express authority contained in a decision of the said Tribunal and justified as an exceptional measure by considerations relating to distance or force majeure.

4. Il sera du devoir du Tribunal de tenir chaque semaine, sauf pendant les périodes de vacances qui n'excéderont pas huit semaines en totalité pendant l'année, le nombre d'audiences nécessaire pour assurer la prompte expédition des affaires.
5. Les jugements devront toujours être rendus au plus tard deux mois après la clôture des débats, qui comportera la mise de l'affaire au délibéré du Tribunal.
6. Les débats oraux, lorsque l'affaire en comportera, et, dans tous les cas, le prononcé des jugements auront lieu en audience publique.
7. Chaque Tribunal Arbitral Mixte aura la faculté, s'il le juge utile à la bonne expédition des affaires, de tenir une ou plusieurs audiences hors de son siège.

Article 96.

Les Gouvernements intéressés désigneront d'un commun accord un Secrétaire général pour chaque Tribunal, et lui adjoindront chacun un ou plusieurs Secrétaires. Le Secrétaire général et les Secrétaires seront sous les ordres du Tribunal qui, avec l'agrément des Gouvernements intéressés, pourra engager toutes personnes dont le concours lui serait nécessaire.

Le Secrétariat de chaque Tribunal aura ses bureaux à Constantinople; il appartiendra aux Gouvernements intéressés de créer des bureaux annexés en tel autre lieu qu'il appartiendra.

Chaque Tribunal conservera, dans son Secrétariat, les archives, pièces et documents des affaires qui lui auront été soumises et, à l'expiration de son mandat, en effectuera le dépôt dans les archives du Gouvernement où il aura eu son siège. Ces archives seront toujours ouvertes aux Gouvernements intéressés.

Article 97.

Chaque Gouvernement payera les honoraires du membre du Tribunal Arbitral Mixte qu'il nomme, ainsi que ceux de tout agent et secrétaire qu'il désignera.

Les honoraires du Président et ceux du Secrétaire général seront fixés d'accord entre les Gouvernements intéressés, et ces honoraires, ainsi que les dépenses communes du Tribunal, seront payés par moitié par les deux Gouvernements.

Article 187.

Sauf stipulations contraires entre les Hautes Parties contractantes, les décisions prises ou les ordres donnés depuis le 30 octobre 1918 jusqu'à la mise en vigueur

4. It shall be the duty of the Tribunal to hold as many sittings each week as may be needed for the prompt despatch of its business, except during vacations, which shall not exceed a total of eight weeks a year.
5. Judgment must always be given within at most two months from the end of the hearing, after which the Tribunal will at once proceed to consider its judgment.
6. Oral arguments, if any, shall be heard in public, and in all cases judgment shall be delivered in public.
7. Each Mixed Arbitral Tribunal shall be entitled to hold sittings elsewhere than in the place where its seat is established, if it considers it advantageous for the despatch of business.

Article 96.

The Governments concerned shall appoint by agreement a Secretary-General for each Tribunal, and shall each attach to him one or more Secretaries. The Secretary-General and the Secretaries shall be under the orders of the Tribunal, which with the consent of the Governments concerned shall be entitled to engage any persons whose assistance it may need.

The Secretariat of each Tribunal shall have its offices at Constantinople. The Governments concerned shall have power to establish additional offices in such other places as may be convenient.

Each Tribunal shall keep in its Secretariat the records, papers and documents relating to the cases submitted to it, and upon the completion of its duties it shall deposit them in the archives of the Government of the country where its seat is established. These archives shall always be accessible to the Governments concerned.

Article 97.

Each Government shall pay the emoluments of the member of the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal whom it appoints, as well as those of any agent or secretary appointed by it.

The emoluments of the President and those of the Secretary-General shall be fixed by agreement between the Governments concerned, and these emoluments and the general expenses of the Tribunal shall be paid in equal shares by the two Governments.

Article 187.

Subject to any agreements concluded between the High Contracting Parties, the decisions taken and orders issued since the 30th October, 1918, until the coming into du présent Traité, par ou d'accord avec les autorités des Puissances ayant occupé Constantinople et concernant les biens, droits et intérêts de leurs ressortissants, des étrangers ou des ressortissants turcs et les rapports des uns et des autres avec les autorités de la Turquie, seront réputés acquis et ne pourront donner lieu à aucune réclamation contre ces Puissances ou leurs autorités.

Toutes autres réclamations en raison d'un préjudice subi par suite des décisions ou ordres ci-dessus visés, seront soumis au Tribunal Arbitral Mixte.

Article 138.

En matière judiciaire seront réputés acquis, sans préjudice des dispositions des paragraphes IV et VI de la Déclaration en date de ce jour relative à l'amnistie, les décisions et ordres rendus en Turquie, depuis le 30 octobre 1918 jusqu'à la mise en vigueur du présent Traité, par tous juges, tribunaux ou autorités des Puissances ayant occupé Constantinople, ainsi que par la Commission Judiciaire Mixte provisoire constituée le 8 décembre 1921, ensemble les mesures d'exécution.

Toutefois, dans le cas où une réclamation serait présentée par un particulier en réparation d'un préjudice subi par lui au profit d'un autre particulier en raison d'une décision judiciaire émanant en matière civile d'un tribunal militaire ou de police, cette réclamation sera soumise à l'examen du Tribunal Arbitral Mixte, qui pourra, s'il y a lieu, imposer le paiement d'une indemnité et même ordonner une restitution.

Article 140.

Les prises maritimes respectivement effectuées au cours de la guerre entre la Turquie et les autres Puissances contractantes et antérieures au 30 octobre 1918, ne donneront lieu de part et d'autre à aucune réclamation. Il en sera de même des saisies qui, postérieurement à cette date, auraient été, pour violation de l'armistice, effectuées par les Puissances ayant occupé Constantinople.

Il est entendu qu'aussi bien de la part des Gouvernements des Puissances ayant occupé Constantinople et de leurs ressortissants que de la part du Gouvernement turc et de ses ressortissants, aucune réclamation ne sera présentée relativement aux embarcations de tous genres, navires de faible tonnage, yachts et allèges, dont lesdits Gouvernements ont, les uns ou les autres, disposé depuis le 29 octobre 1914 jusqu'au 1 janvier 1923 dans leurs ports respectifs et dans les ports occupés par eux. Toutefois, cette disposition ne porte atteinte aux dispositions du paragraphe VI de la Déclaration en date de ce jour relative à l'amnistie, non plus qu'aux revendications que des particuliers pourraient faire valoir contre d'autres particuliers en vertu de droits antérieurs au 29 octobre 1914.

force of the present Treaty, by or in agreement with the authorities of the Powers who have occupied Constantinople, and concerning the property, rights and interests of their nationals, of foreigners or of Turkish nationals, and the relations of such persons with the authorities of Turkey, shall be regarded as definitive and shall give rise to no claim against these powers or their authorities.

All other claims arising from injury suffered in consequence of any such decisions or orders shall be submitted to the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal.

Article 138.

In judicial matters, the decisions given and orders issued in Turkey from the 30th October, 1918, until the coming into force of the present Treaty by all judges, courts or authorities of the Powers who have occupied Constantinople, or, by the Provisional Mixed Judicial Commission established on the 8th December, 1921, as well as the measures taken in execution of such decisions or orders, shall be regarded as definitive, without prejudice, however, to the terms of paragraphs IV and VI of the Amnesty Declaration dated this day.

Nevertheless, in the event of a claim being presented by a private person in respect of damage suffered by him in consequence of a judicial decision in favour of another private person given in a civil matter by a military or police-court this claim shall be brought before the Mixed Arbitral Tribunal, which may in a proper case, order the payment of compensation or even restitution of the property in question.

Article 140.

Prizes made during the war between Turkey and the other Contracting Powers prior to the 30th October, 1918, shall give rise to no claim on either side. The same shall apply to seizures effected after that date, for violation of the armistice, by the Powers who have occupied Constantinople.

It is understood that no claim shall be made, either by the Governments of the powers who have occupied Constantinople or their nationals, or by the Turkish Government or its nationals, respecting small craft of all kinds, vessels of light tonnage, yachts and lighters which any of the said Governments may, between the 29th October, 1914, until the 1st January, 1923, have disposed of in their own harbours or in harbours occupied by them. Nevertheless, this stipulation does not prejudice the terms of paragraph VI of the Amnesty Declaration, dated this day, nor the claims which private persons may be able to establish against other private persons in virtue of rights held before the 29th October, 1914.

PART II.

Convention relative à l'Etablissement et à la Compétence judiciaire.

Article 16.

En matière de statut personnel, c'est-à-dire pour toutes les questions concernant le mariage et la communauté conjugale, le divorce, la séparation de corps, la dot, la paternité, la filiation, l'adoption, la capacité des personnes, la majorité, la tutelle, la curatelle, l'interdiction; en matières mobilières, le droit de succession testamentaire ou ab intestat, partages et liquidations; et, en général, le droit de famille, il est entendu entre la Turquie et les autres Puissances contractantes que seront seuls compétents vis-à-vis des ressortissants non musulmans desdites Puissances, établis ou se trouvant en Turquie, les tribunaux nationaux ou autres autorités nationales siégeant dans le pays auquel ressortit la partie dont le statut personnel est en cause.

La présente disposition ne porte pas atteinte aux attributions spéciales des consuls en matière d'état civil d'après le droit international ou les accords particuliers qui pourront intervenir, non plus qu'au droit des tribunaux turcs de requérir et recevoir les preuves relatives aux questions reconnues ci-dessus comme étant de la compétence des tribunaux, nationaux ou autres autorités nationales des parties en cause.

Par dérogation à l'alinéa premier, les tribunaux turcs pourront également être compétents dans les questions visées audit alinéa, si toutes les parties en cause se soumettent par écrit à la juridiction de ces tribunaux, lesquels statueront d'après la loi nationale des parties.

PART II.

Convention respecting Conditions of Residence and Business and Jurisdiction.

Article 16.

In matters of personal status, i.e., all questions relating to marriage, conjugal rights, divorce, judicial separation, dower, paternity, affiliation, adoption, capacity, majority, guardianship, trusteeship and interdiction; in matters relating to succession to personality, whether by will or on intestacy, and the distribution and winding up of estates; and family law in general, it is agreed between Turkey and the other Contracting Powers that, as regards non-Moslem nationals of such Powers in Turkey the national tribunals or other competent national authorities established in the country of which the party whose personal status is in question is a national will alone have jurisdiction.

The present stipulation does not affect the special attributions of consuls in matters of status in accordance with international law or special agreements which may be concluded, nor the right of Turkish courts to request and receive evidence respecting matters acknowledged above as being within the competence of the national tribunals or authorities of the parties concerned.

By way of exception to the first paragraph of this Article, the Turkish courts will also have jurisdiction in the matters referred to therein, if all the parties to the case submit in writing to the jurisdiction of the said courts. In such case the Turkish courts will apply the national law of the parties.

CUSTOMS DUTIES.

Simla, the 15th September 1924.

No. 4257.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 23 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878 (VIII of 1878), the Governor General in Council is pleased to exempt galvanised latex spouts used on rubber plantations for insertion in rubber trees from the import duty leviable thereon under Schedule II to the Indian Tariff Act, 1894 (VIII of 1894).

A. R. LOFTUS TOTTENHAM

Joint Secretary to the Government

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE.

RESOLUTION.

Simla, the 20th September 1924.

No. 47-T. (5).—As announced in the Legislative Assembly on the 15th March last, in view of the Resolution adopted by the Assembly recommending on economic grounds the imposition of a countervailing duty on South African coal imported into India, the Government of India decided to refer to the Tariff Board for investigation the question whether the Indian coal trade is in need of protection either against coal from South Africa or against imports of foreign coal generally, and if so, whether, having regard to all the interests concerned, protection should be accorded to it.

2. Imports of coal into India are relatively small, and are steadily diminishing in quantity. The average production of coal in India during the last three years has been about 19 million tons per annum. Imports during the same period were :—

						Thousands of tons.
1921-22	1,489
1922-23	882
1923-24	592

The returns for the first four months of the present year, 1924-25, show a further rapid decrease in imports as compared with the first three months of previous years, viz.—

						Thousands of tons.
1922 April to June	404
1923 Ditto	245
1924 Ditto	128

Total imports in the two years preceding the war were :—

						Thousands of tons.
1912-13	643
1913-14	532

Total imports have thus now fallen to pre-war level.

3. At the same time, export of coal from India to other countries have seriously contracted. Export figures for the years before and after the war are :—

						Thousands of tons.
1913-13	879
1913-14	722
1920-21	1,143
1921-22	113
1922-23	98

During the present year, there has been some recovery, exports for the four months ending the 31st July last amounting to 80,000 tons.

4. It is evident from these figures that the competition from which the Indian coal industry is now suffering is not so much in the Indian market as in overseas markets, such as Colombo and Singapore. It is also evident that overseas markets cannot be recovered by the protection of the Indian market. They can only be recovered by improving and grading the quality of coal for export, and by reducing the cost of production and transport. At the same time, it is possible that the measures which are necessary to recover the overseas market, may be sufficient, without further protection, to enable Indian coal to meet competition in the home market.

5. The grading and transport of coal are highly technical subjects, with which the Tariff Board is not fully equipped to deal. The Government of India have, therefore, decided to appoint an expert Committee, representative of the interests concerned, to consider this side of the question, with the following terms of reference :

“To enquire and report

- (1) generally what measures can be taken by Government, by the coal trade, by the railways and by the ports, whether singly or in combination, to stimulate the export of suitable coal from Calcutta to Indian and foreign ports ; and
- (2) in particular, whether effective measures can be taken for the pooling and grading of Indian coal for export and for bunkering, and how the cost of such measures should be met.”

6. The Committee will be composed as follows :—

President.

F. Noyce, Esq., C.S.I., C.B.E., I.C.S.

Members.

The Chief Mining Engineer to the Railway Board.

F. C. Legge, Esq., C.B.E., Director of Wagon Interchange.

S. C. Stuart-Williams, Esq., Chairman, Calcutta Port Trust.

A. A. F. Bray, Esq., Chairman, Indian Mining Association.

W. C. Banerjee, Esq., Vice-Chairman, Indian Mining Federation.

Sir Rajendra Nath Mookerjee, K.C.I.E., K.C.V.O., of Messrs. Martin & Co., Calcutta.

The Hon'ble Mr. J. W. A. Bell of Messrs. Mackinnon Mackenzie & Co., Calcutta.

Secretary.

H. P. V. Townend, Esq., I.C.S.

It is hoped that a Committee so composed will be able to devise practical measures, acceptable to all interests concerned, for achieving the objects in view.

7. The Committee will hold its enquiry at Calcutta. It may find it necessary to tour in the coalfields, but for visits to other ports the Government of India think that sub-committees might be appointed. But this question will be left to the decision of the Committee itself. The Committee will assemble in October, and report to the Government of India at the earliest possible date.

8. The recommendations of the Committee will necessarily influence the Tariff Board's investigation of the question whether the Indian coal trade is in need of protection. The Government of India, therefore, after consulting the Tariff Board, have decided to postpone this reference to the Tariff Board until after the Committee has reported.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations, the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence, the Indian Trade Commissioner, London, the Finance, Railway and Industries and Labour Departments and the Secretary, Tariff Board.

Ordered also that it be published in the Gazette of India.

THE SCHEDULE.

ENACTMENTS REPEALED.

(See section 2.)

Year.	No.	Short tit'o.	Extent of repeal.
1859	XIII	The Workman's Breach of Contract Act, 1859.	The whole.
1860	XLV	The Indian Penal Code ...	Sections 490 and 492.
1897	XIV	The Indian Short Titles Act, 1897.	So much of the Schedule as relates to the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, 1859.
1920	XII	The Workman's Breach of Contract (Amendment) Act, 1920.	The whole.
"	XXXVIII	The Devolution Act, 1920 ...	So much of the First Schedule as relates to the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, 1859.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

On the 20th February 1923, Mr. K. C. Neogi asked for leave to introduce a Bill in the Legislative Assembly to repeal the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, 1859, as amended by Act XII of 1920. The motion, which was finally rejected by the Assembly, was opposed by Government on the ground that though the Act might not be necessary as an all-India measure, Local Governments must be at liberty to place before their own legislatures some measure to give protection, where necessary, to employers and industrialists in particular areas and in particular circumstances. It was also pointed out that time must be given to employers and industrialists to adjust themselves to the changed conditions which would follow when the Act was repealed. An undertaking was, however, given that Government would take the necessary steps to repeal the Act with effect from 1st April 1926. This Bill is intended to give effect to that undertaking, and seeks to repeal with effect from 1st April 1926, the Act of 1859. An opportunity has at the same time been taken of repealing sections 490 and 492 of the Indian Penal Code which deal with cognate matters as their repeal seems to be a logical development of the repeal of the Act of 1859.

Year.	No.	Short title.	Extent of repeal.
1897	IX	The Provident Funds Act, 1897.	So much as has not been repealed.
1903	IV	The Provident Funds (Amendment) Act, 1903.	The whole.
1914	X	The Repealing and Amending Act, 1914.	So much of the Second Schedule as relates to the Provident Funds Act, 1897.
1919	XIV	The Provident Funds (Amendment) Act, 1919.	The whole.
1920	XXXVIII	The Devolution Act, 1920.	So much of the First Schedule as relates to the Provident Funds Act, 1897.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Provident Funds Act at present provides that any sums standing to the credit of depositors in Provident Funds to which the Act applies at the decease of the depositor and which are payable, under the rules of the Fund, to the widow or children of the deceased shall vest in such widow or children. Such sums do not, therefore, form part of the estate of the deceased, and the interest of the widow or children are thereby fully protected. It is considered that this provision is unduly restrictive, and that the same degree of protection should be accorded to other dependants of the deceased besides his widow and children. Otherwise the accumulations of a depositor, who dies before such accumulations are disbursed to him, may be held to be liable to meet the debts of the deceased, and the object of the Provident Fund in question may be frustrated.

2. The Act protects compulsory deposits in a Provident Fund from attachments but not from assignments which may have been made to take effect on the depositor's retirement or on his death. On the other hand, the rules regulating the General Provident Fund, which is one of the most important funds to which the Act applies, provide that Government will not be bound by or recognize any assignment or encumbrance executed or attempted to be created which affects the disposal of the accumulations of a depositor who dies before retirement. The validity of this provision is open to question. It is considered that, in order to give effect to the object for which Provident Funds have been constituted, it should be made clear, that, with certain exceptions, in spite of debts, liabilities, assignments or any form of encumbrance, the depositor, on retirement, or his dependants or nominees, if he dies before retirement or after retirement but before actual disbursement, should receive intact the accumulations at his credit in the fund. The exceptions proposed to this provision are as follows:—

- (i) the rights of third parties obtained before the proposed amendment comes into operation should be protected; and
- (ii) in the case of contributory Provident Funds, the authority by which the fund was constituted should be entitled to withhold amounts not exceeding the total contributions made by the authority and the interest or increment on such contributions, if those amounts are due to the authority under a liability incurred by the depositor, or if the depositor is dismissed from the authority's employment or resigns his employment within five years of the commencement thereof.

3. Again, under the Act as it stands, apart from the amounts which vest in the widow or children of a depositor, the disbursement of the accumulations in a fund at the time of the death of a depositor is impossible if the total assets exceed Rs. 2,000 without the production of probate or letters of administration or a succession certificate. It is considered desirable to permit such disbursement of the accumulations if the amount does not exceed Rs. 5,000 instead of Rs. 2,000 at present. A corresponding provision is contained in the Government Savings Bank Act under which the amount of a deposit which can be disbursed in this manner is Rs. 3,000 as compared with Rs. 1,000 before the Act was amended in 1917. Similarly, under the Indian Securities Act, 1920, on the death of a person who was entitled to a Government security or securities, the prescribed officer may now determine who is the person entitled to the security or securities, if they do not in the aggregate exceed Rs. 5,000, without the production of probate, letters of administration or a succession certificate.

4. It has further been considered desirable to provide definitely in the Act for the rights of nominees and also to indicate that a deposit is a compulsory deposit within the meaning of the Act and continues to be so for so long as it remains in the hands of the administrators of the fund despite the existence of an option permitting withdrawal from the fund on the condition that the amount withdrawn shall be expended on the taking out of, or on contributions towards, an insurance policy.

5. In order to give effect to these suggestions and also to certain other minor points, it is considered desirable to amend the existing Act and to re-enact it in a consolidated form.

28. The candidates and their agents shall not speak to or address any intending voter in the polling booth or room, but may submit to the polling officer objections to a voter on the following three grounds:—

Second.—That his claim to be a certain voter shown on the electoral roll is false.

Third.—That he has already voted.

29. The procedure for recording each voter's vote shall be as follows:—

No. F.-18-III-F.E.-24.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 96B of the Government of India Act, the Secretary of State in Council, with the concurrence of the majority of votes at a meeting held on the 24th September 1924, hereby makes the following rules:—

INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE PROVIDENT FUND RULES.

Made by the Secretary of State in Council under section 96B of the Government of India Act.

Introduction and Definitions.

- 1.—(a) These rules may be called the Indian Civil Service Provident Fund Rules.
(b) They shall come into force with effect from the 24th September 1924.

2.—(a) In these rules:—

- (i) Account Officer means the audit officer so designated, in the case of the rupee branch of the Fund, by the Auditor-General, and, in the case of the sterling branch, by the High Commissioner for India.
- (ii) Emoluments means pay, leave-salary or subsistence grant, as defined by the Fundamental Rules.
- (iii) The Fund means the Indian Civil Service Provident Fund.
- (iv) Leave means any variety of leave recognised by the Fundamental Rules.
- (v) Year means financial year.

(b) Any other expression employed in these rules which is defined in the Fundamental Rules is used in the sense therein defined.

Nature of the Fund.

3. The Fund shall be administered by the Governor-General in Council. It shall be open only to members of the Indian Civil Service, and shall be maintained in two branches, namely, a rupee branch located in India and a sterling branch located in London.

4. To each officer's account in the Fund shall be credited:—

- (a) All contributions of 4 per cent. of his pay and other specified allowances, made and funded for his benefit, between the 1st April 1919 and the date on which these rules come into force.
- (b) Interest on such contributions, calculated by the method, and at the rate prescribed in rule 12.
- (c) All contributions made by the officer under these rules, together with interest on such contributions calculated as prescribed in rule 12.

Conditions and Rates of Contribution.

5. Every member of the Indian Civil Service shall contribute to the Fund not less than 4 nor more than 12½ per cent. of all emoluments drawn by him after these rules come into force:

Provided that—

- (1) contribution shall be optional for members of the Executive Council of the Governor-General or of a Governor;
- (2) contribution on account of leave-salary drawn during leave preliminary to retirement shall be optional; but an officer who, after electing not to contribute during a period of such leave, subsequently returns to duty, shall contribute at the rate of 4 per cent. on all leave-salary drawn during the leave; and
- (3) contribution shall be optional on account of subsistence grant, leave-salary equal to subsistence grant, or minimum leave-salary.

6. The amount to be contributed by each officer shall be fixed by the officer himself, subject to the provisions of rules 5, 7, 8 and 9 and to the following general conditions:—

- (1) The amount shall be fixed in rupees if the officer's emoluments at the time of payment are drawn in rupees, and in sterling if his emoluments are drawn in sterling.
- (2) If fixed in rupees, the amount shall be a number of complete rupees, and if fixed in sterling a number of complete shillings.
- (3) If the amount fixed by an officer is, in relation to the emoluments on account of which it is contributed, either below the minimum or above the maximum percentage prescribed by Rule 5, the Account Officer shall presume that the contributor's intention was to contribute the minimum or the maximum, as the case may be, rounded off to the nearest rupee or shilling, and shall intimate to the contributor the amount to be paid by, or refunded to, him accordingly.

7. When any emoluments, other than leave-salary, are drawn from a Government treasury in India, the contribution on account of such emoluments shall be such amount as may be deducted by the officer on this account from the bill on which the emoluments are drawn.

8. When an officer is—

- (a) transferred to foreign service in which he will not be drawing his pay from a Government treasury in India, or
- (b) sent on deputation out of India, he shall, before proceeding to join his new duty, intimate to the Account Officer the amount of his emoluments while on such foreign service or deputation, and the amount of the monthly contribution which he desires to make on account of those emoluments. When the amount of his emoluments is changed during the foreign service or deputation, the officer may intimate to the Account Officer a change in the amount of his contribution, and he shall intimate such a change when the existing amount falls, in relation to the changed emoluments, outside the limits prescribed by Rule 5.

Re-draft.

9. The amount of contribution on account of leave-salary shall be fixed by the following method:—

- (a) Before departure on leave, every officer shall intimate to the Account Officer in India the amount which he desires to contribute monthly during his leave. He shall also intimate whether he wishes to contribute in the event of his drawing subsistence-grant, leave-salary equal to subsistence-grant, or minimum leave-salary. The amount in each case shall be a fixed percentage of the emoluments admissible to him during his leave. These particulars shall be entered in the officer's leave-salary certificate.
- (b) An intimation thus made to the Account Officer shall be final, and no alteration of the percentage fixed shall be permitted during the course of the leave.
- (c) If no intimation under this rule is made before an officer goes on leave, contribution shall be deducted throughout his leave at the rate of 4 per cent. of his leave-salary.

Realisation of Contributions.

10.—(a) When emoluments are drawn from a Government treasury in India, or from the home or a colonial treasury, contributions on account of those emoluments shall be recovered by deduction from the emoluments themselves.

(b) When emoluments are drawn from any other source, contributions shall be paid by remittance in cash to the Account Officer.

11. Contributions fixed in rupees shall be credited to the rupee branch and contributions fixed in sterling to the sterling branch of the Fund.

Interest on Contributions.

12. Interest at the rate for the time being allowed on contributions to the General Provident Fund shall be credited by Government, as from the 31st March of each year, to the account of each contributor to the Fund, subject to the following conditions:—

- (1) Interest for 12 months shall be credited on the amount at the credit of the officer on the 31st March of the preceding year, less any advance taken during the year.

- (2) Interest shall be credited for each month of the year upon the sum by which the minimum amount at the credit of the officer, between the close of the fourth day and the end of the month, exceeded the amount on which interest is credited under condition (1) of this rule. For the purpose of this rule a contribution paid by deduction from emoluments shall be treated as having been deposited in the Fund on the first day of the month in which payment is actually made.
- (3) Before the amount at an officer's credit in the Fund is finally paid under Rule 18 his account shall be credited with interest up to the end of the month preceeding that in which the payment is made, or up to the end of the sixth month after the end of the month in which he quitted the service or died, whichever of these periods be less.
- (4) Before any reduction is made in the rate of interest allowed, in conformity with a reduction in the rates allowed on contributions to the General Provident Fund, six months' notice shall be given to all contributors.

Advances from the Fund.

13.—(1) The local Government or, in the case of an officer serving under the Government of India, the Governor-General in Council, may sanction the payment to any contributor of an advance, consisting of a sum of whole rupees and ordinarily not exceeding in amount three months' pay, from the sum standing to his credit in the rupee branch of the Fund.

(2) An advance shall not be granted under this rule to any contributor until at least 12 months have elapsed from the date of repayment of the last instalment of any previous advance, unless the Governor-General in Council or the local Government, as the case may be, considers, for reasons which shall be recorded in writing, that this restriction may be relaxed.

14.—(a) An advance shall be recovered in such number of equal monthly instalments, not being less than 12 or more than 24, as the sanctioning authority may prescribe. A contributor may, however at his option, make repayment in a smaller number of instalments than that proscribed. Each instalment shall be a number of complete rupees, the amount of the advance being raised or reduced, if necessary, to admit of the fixation of such instalment.

(b) Recovery shall be made in the manner provided by Rule 10 for the realisation of contributions, and shall commence on the first occasion after the advance is made on which the officer draws pay for a full month. It shall not be made while the officer is on leave or in receipt of subsistence grant, and it may be postponed by the sanctioning authority during the recovery of an advance granted to the officer otherwise than from the Fund.

(c) If at any time under the provisions of Rule 13 (2) an advance has been made to an officer before one previously made has been completely repaid, each advance shall be treated separately for purposes of recovery.

(d) When an advance is repayable in 12 instalments, an additional instalment equivalent to that percentage of the advance which is prescribed for corresponding recoveries under the rules of the General Provident Fund shall be paid as interest in the month following that in which the 12th instalment is repayable. Similarly, when the advance is repayable in more than 12 instalments, an additional instalment of twice the percentage of the advance specified above shall be paid as interest. Such additional instalments shall be rounded off to the nearest rupee.

(e) Recoveries made in accordance with this rule shall be credited, as they are made to the officer's account in the Fund; the date of credit being determined, for the purpose of calculating interest, by the procedure prescribed in Rule 12 (2).

Insurance policies.

15. Payments towards a policy of insurance of any description on the contributor's own life may, at the option of a contributor, be substituted for contributions to the Fund subject to the following conditions :—

- (1) If the payments substituted be less than the minimum contribution required by Rule 5, the deficiency shall be paid by the contributor as a contribution to the Fund.
- (2) Government will not make any payments to insurance companies on behalf of contributors, nor will they take steps to keep the policy alive. If a contributor records on his pay bill that he is making payments to an insurance company, the Account Officer shall recover the deficiency, if any, due under sub-clause (1) above, and demand periodically to see the receipts or certified copies of the receipts showing that such payments have been made.

Failing the production of such receipts he shall make the necessary deductions from the contributor's emoluments and pay them to his credit in the Fund. Should a contributor prefer, he may make the usual deduction from his pay bills for credit to the Fund and arrange with the Account Officer to draw from the Fund as required the sums necessary to pay premia. Any sums already at credit of the contributor in the rupee branch of the Fund may be withdrawn for such payments. Such withdrawals shall be treated as advances for the purpose of Rule 12 (1) only, and not for the purpose of Rules 13 and 14.

- (4) If any policy lapses or matures, the contributor shall pay to the Fund the amount of premia paid with interest thereon or the sum realised as the case may be.

Final Withdrawal of Accumulations in the Fund.

16. The amount accumulated in the Fund to the credit of a contributor shall be his property, funded for his benefit, and shall not be liable to forfeiture in the event of his dismissal from the service or of his quitting it before he becomes entitled to annuity.

17. It shall not be permissible to withdraw a contributor's property in the Fund until he finally quits the service or dies.

Provided that a contributor who has been granted leave preliminary to retirement, or who, while on leave, is either permitted to retire or is declared by a medical board to be unfit for further service, may withdraw the amount standing at his credit at any time between the commencement of the leave, or the date of such permission, or of such declaration, as the case may be, and the date of actual retirement.

18. Sums finally withdrawn from the Fund shall be paid in rupees or in sterling according as they are held in the rupee or the sterling branch of the Fund, and shall be payable in accordance with the following provisions:—

- (1) The Local Government shall, on the application of the contributor, direct the Account Officer to pay the amount at the contributor's credit, and such amount shall thereupon be paid in full unless the Account Officer shall have received notice of any attachment, assignment or encumbrance affecting the disposal of the amount or of any portion of it; in which case he shall pay to the contributor such portion only of the amount as is not affected by the attachment, assignment, or encumbrance, and shall obtain the orders of the Local Government as to the disposal of the balance.
- (2) If a contributor dies, the Account Officer shall take steps, in consultation, if necessary, with the local Government under which the contributor was serving, to ascertain the person legally entitled to receive the amount at the contributor's credit, and shall pay the amount to that person. Where the contributor has died leaving a widow or children, then, unless the Account Officer has received from him a direction to the contrary in writing, Rs. 5,000 of the sum standing to the credit of the contributor at the time of his decease, or the whole of such sum if it be less than Rs. 5,000, shall be payable to the widow, or, if there is no widow, to the children, or to such person as may be authorised by law to receive payment on behalf of the widow or the children, as the case may be.
- (3) If a person to whom an amount is payable under clause (1) or clause (2) is not in India when withdrawal is made, the Account Officer shall, at the option of such person to be intimated in writing, either pay the amount in the rupee branch into such bank in India as such person may designate, or purchase sterling bills with that amount and forward them to such person. If such person is in India at the time of the withdrawal, the Account Officer shall, on receipt of intimation of the exercise of a similar option, either pay the amount in the sterling branch into such bank in the United Kingdom as may be similarly designated, or purchase rupee bills with the amount and forward them to such person.

Procedure.

19. All sums paid into the Fund under these rules shall be credited in the books of the Government of India to an account named "The Indian Civil Service Provident Fund." Sums not claimed for a period exceeding six months after the contributor has died or quitted the service shall be transferred to "Deposits" at the end of the year, and treated under the ordinary rules relating to deposits.

20. When paying a contribution in India, either by deduction from emoluments or in cash, the contributor shall quote the number of his account, which shall be communicated to him by the Account Officer, and shall remain unaltered until a change is intimated by the Account Officer.

21.—(a) As soon as possible after the close of each year, every contributor shall be supplied with a statement of his account in each branch of the Fund. Every such statement shall show the opening balance, as on 1st April of the year; all amounts credited or withdrawn during the year; the amount of interest credited as on the 31st March of the year; and the closing balance as on that date.

(b) Contributors are required to satisfy themselves as to the correctness of the annual statements, and errors should be brought to the notice of the Account Officer concerned within six months from the date of receipt of a statement.

General.

22. No departure from these rules in individual cases shall be made without the sanction of the Secretary of State for India in Council, and no such departure shall adversely affect the interests of the contributors concerned.

No. F.-7-V.-U.S.R.—The following Resolution by the Secretary of State for India in Council is published for general information :—

RESOLUTION.

In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 96 (b) of the Government of India Act, the Secretary of State for India in Council, with the concurrence of the majority of votes at the meeting of the Council of India held on the 27th August 1924, hereby makes the following amendment of Fundamental Rule 100, with effect from the 1st January 1922, viz. :—

The following shall be inserted under clause (a) (ii), viz. :—

NOTE.—In the case of a Government servant who is entitled, under orders previously in force, to privilege leave for more than four months, the number of months to be taken at one time as prescribed in sub-clause (i) above may be increased, on the first occasion when leave is taken under these rules, by the number of months by which the amount of privilege leave due exceeds four months.

No. F.-26 (4)-U.S.R.-24.—The following Resolution of the Secretary of State for India in Council is published for information :—

RESOLUTION.

In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 96 (b) of the Government of India Act, the Secretary of State for India in Council, with the concurrence of the majority of votes at a meeting of the Council of India held on the 3rd day of September 1924, hereby makes the following amendments to the Civil Service Regulations, which shall have effect from the 22nd February 1921, namely :—

Article 356 shall be cancelled and the following shall be substituted, namely :—

Article 356.

Service rendered by an employee belonging to one of the classes mentioned in Note 2 below after attaining the age of 20 years, which is pensionable under military rules but which terminates before a pension has been earned in respect of it, may, at the discretion of the provincial and minor local Governments specified in Parts I and II of Appendix I to these Regulations, be allowed to count, when followed by service qualifying for civil pension, as part of such service, provided that any bonus or gratuity received in lieu of pension on, or since, discharge from military service shall be refunded in not more than 36 monthly instalments, commencing from the date of joining a civil appointment. Service pensionable under military rules, which does not so terminate, shall not be allowed to count without the sanction of the Secretary of State in Council.

"Note 1.—An officer or ex-soldier will not be brought under the operation of this Article as a matter of course. Each case will be decided on its merits, e.g., there may be cases in which it may be open to a claimant for pension to add military service during the Great War to former non-pensionable service in the Army in order to claim the benefit of a military pension. In such cases it may be to the advantage of the claimant that he should not be brought under the operation of this Article. The bearing of Article 1031, Army Regulations, India, Volume I, on the position of soldiers of the Indian Army who re-entered during the Great War, deserves consideration in this connection.

"Note 2.—This Article applies to Indian commissioned officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the Indian Army, and to non-combatant departmental and regimental employees and followers of the supplemental services. It also applies to non-commissioned officers and men of the British Service, Warrant officers and departmental officers of the commissary and the assistant-surgeon classes, in respect of service with their units or departments in India.

"NOTE 3.—To be eligible for the concession in this article a soldier-clerk employed in the civil department should take his discharge from the Army within 12 months after joining his appointment in the department. This limit may, in special cases, be relaxed by the Government of India.

"NOTE 4.—Employees in the Military Police have the option of counting service under any other rules in these Regulations which would give them a similar or more liberal concession.

"NOTE 5.—Employees who were in service in the civil department on the 22nd February 1921 are eligible to count service under the rules which were in force before that date, where those rules are more advantageous to them."

Article 357 shall be cancelled and the following shall be substituted, namely :—

Article 357.

"For the purpose of the foregoing article, service as private or in any higher combatant rank shall be treated as superior if followed by superior service in the civil department. In other cases, military service shall be treated as superior or inferior according to the character of the appointment in which it was rendered, and with reference to the criteria observed in the civil department. Doubtful cases should be referred to the Government of India, who enjoy full powers in the matter."

The following shall be substituted for clause (3) of article 359 :—

"(3) Sub-Assistant Surgeons count service from the date they pass their final examination."

Article 501.

Clause (a) shall be omitted and the remaining clauses shall be re-numbered (a), (b) (c) and (d).

TARIFFS.

Simla, the 8th October 1924.

No. 260-T. (15).—The Government of India have received an application from Messrs. Tata Sons Limited, Agents, The Tata Iron and Steel Company, Limited, requesting that the Governor General in Council, in the exercise of his powers under section 3 (4) of the Indian Tariff Act, 1894, as amended by the Steel Industry (Protection) Act, 1924, should increase the duty leviable on certain articles under Part VII of the Second Schedule to the said Act, on the ground that such articles are being imported into British India at a price likely to render ineffective the protection intended to be afforded by such duty to similar articles manufactured in India.

2. The Government of India have decided to refer this application to the Tariff Board for examination. The Board will consider—

- (1) to what extent, if any, and in respect of what articles, or class or description of articles, the duty should be increased; and
- (2) whether the duty should be increased generally, or in respect of such articles when imported from or manufactured in any country or countries specified; and will make recommendations.

3. Firms or persons interested, who desire that their views should be considered by the Tariff Board, should address their representations to the Secretary, Tariff Board.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations, all Departments of the Government of India, the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence, the Indian Trade Commissioner in London and to the Secretary, Tariff Board.

Ordered also that it be published in the Gazette of India.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP, 1924.

Consolidated statement for Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, and Assam.

Area.—The estimated area for the three Provinces is 2,732,703 acres, a decrease of 54,805 acres, as compared with last year's revised returns. Since the Preliminary Forecast the Collector of Rangpur has agreed to revise his figures, increasing the area for Rangpur from 245,894 acres to 270,000 acres.

Yield.—It is estimated that the crop will yield 8,044,892 bales of jute, i.e., less than last year's revised total by 428,563 bales.

Remarks.—Last year's estimates for all the three Provinces have been revised by the respective Directors of Agriculture. The revised acreage figures for last year are based, as far as possible, on actual arrivals in the season 1923-24.

The consolidated returns are as follows :—

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Bengal for 1924.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1922-23, the area under jute to which this forecast relates represents some 86·5 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.)

Season.—In the preliminary forecast it was indicated that the season had not been uniformly favourable, and similar conditions have continued in the interval. In South-Eastern Bengal, following drought and then excessive rain, an early rise of the rivers caused premature cutting of some lowland jute, the tracts chiefly affected being parts of Tippera, Dacca, and Faridpur. In other portions of South-Eastern Bengal, however, the crop approximates to normal, this being particularly true of Western Mymensingh and the bogi tract in the Dacca district.

In North Bengal and in the Presidency Division conditions may be described as uniformly favourable throughout, and in some portions of the former tract, notably Rangpur district, there is exceptionally good jute.

In Burdwan Division the crop is fair.

This year there has been ample steeping water from the commencement of the season and reports indicate a larger proportion of clean jute in consequence.

Condition of the crop.—As described above, in South-Eastern Bengal, excepting Western Mymensingh and portions of Dacca and Faridpur, the crop is not good. In Northern Bengal and the Presidency, favourable conditions have been reflected in a good crop; while the Burdwan Division is fair.

Acreage.—The area under jute is 2,390,103 acres, a decrease of 54,305 acres, or 2·2 per cent., as compared with last year. The area for Rangpur district has been increased from 245,894 acres to 270,000 acres since the preliminary forecast was issued. Several other minor alterations have also been made by Collectors. The decreased area is partly the result of low prices last year and partly also of unfavourable conditions at sowing time.

Outturn.—As in previous years, the percentage figures are calculated on the basis of divisional normals which remain as follows:—Dacca and Chittagong 3·7 each, Rajshahi 3·5, Presidency and Burdwan 3·2 bales per acre.

The total outturn of the crop is estimated at 7,239,865 bales of 400 lbs., as against 7,534,055 bales (revised) in last year's forecast, a decrease of 294,190 bales.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
	Acres.	Acres.			Bales.	Bales.
24-Paraganas ..	36,097*	42,000	75	78	89,058*	105,390	Middle of August : Normal.	Unfavourable weather condition and the damage done by insects account for the decrease in yield from the normal.
Nadia ..	72,335*	72,335	79	93.75	183,170*	217,005	First week of September : Normal.	The sowing was somewhat late in the Sadar and Ranaghat subdivisions, but owing to subsequent favourable weather the crop thrived well and the yield expected is almost the normal.
Murshidabad ..	13,434*	13,993	75	71	32,240*	31,797	End of August : Late	The increase in area is due to the fact that many plots were sown after the publication of the preliminary forecast. As the weather was not favourable from the beginning and the crop was consequently sown very late in most places, the outturn is estimated to be less than last year.
Jessore ..	71,876*	81,641	98	92	225,403*	240,723	End of August : Normal.	The increase in area is due to the high price of the crop last year. The outturn is below the normal owing to damage caused by insect pests and to want of timely rainfall.
Khulna ..	17,190*	20,315	85	100	46,782*	65,008	End of August : Normal.	The increase in area is due to expectation of a better price this year. The season was also a favourable one.
Burdwan ..	3,036*	2,141	76.8	62.02	7,172*	4,240	End of August : Normal.	The decrease in area as compared with the preliminary forecast is due to unfavourable weather conditions and to damage caused by drought and insect pest in the Kalna subdivision.
Midnapore ..	5,271*	2,310	50	56	8,437*	4,158	End of September : Late.	The decrease in area compared with last year was due to drought at sowing time. The increase as compared with preliminary forecast is due to subsequent rain.
Hooghly ..	14,761*	11,125	78	64.37	36,926*	22,936	First week of September : Late.	The decrease in area is due to failure of the crop in many places owing to drought. Late and irregular distribution of rainfall and preponderance of weeds and attack of insect pests in places account for a poor crop, and so a low outturn.
Howrah ..	7,226*	4,638	70	60	16,258*	8,943	First week of September : Very late.	The late harvesting is due to late sowing on account of severe drought at the beginning and unfavourable weather subsequently.
Rajshahi ..	85,690*	93,000	79	100	237,761*	325,500	August : Normal ..	The weather was not uniformly favourable at the beginning. But the condition has improved since then and the yield is estimated at 100 per cent.
Dinajpur ..	63,750*	62,200	80	87.2	178,500*	189,945	By the beginning of August : Normal.	The outturn is better than last year owing to rainfall in July and August which were favourable to the growth of the crop.
Jalpaiguri ..	40,226*	42,000	78.2	85.1	110,097*	125,140	August : Normal	The weather condition was favourable in the beginning.
Darjeeling ..	2,217*	2,491	53	82.8	4,052*	7,216	Middle of August : Normal.	The increase in area was due to a better market being expected this season and to favourable condition at sowing time.
Rangpur ..	270,000*	270,000	78	101	742,315*	954,450	August : Normal ..	The increase in outturn was due to favourable weather. A little damage was done by the hallowtorn in Sadar and Nilphamari.
Bohara ..	82,150*	79,583	86.57	93.39	248,910*	260,141	End of June : Normal.	The drought at sowing time was responsible for the decrease in area. The outturn is favourable owing to subsequent rain.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BIHAR AND ORISSA.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Bihar and Orissa, 1924.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1922-23, the area under jute to which the Bihar and Orissa forecast relates represents about 7·3 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.)

Acreage.—The final district returns of the seven jute growing districts of the Province show an area under jute of 212,200 acres, as against the finally revised figure of 223,200 acres of last year. The decrease in area is due mainly to want of sufficient rain at the sowing time and excessive rain later on in Bihar and the general insufficiency of rainfall throughout the greater part of growing season in Orissa.

Weather conditions.—In March light rain fell in the jute districts except Bhagalpur, Purnea and Cuttack; the fall was below the normal everywhere. In April and May there was light rain in all the jute districts; the fall was above the normal in Bhagalpur and the Santhal Parganas in April and in Cuttack in May, but below the normal elsewhere. In June there was moderate rainfall everywhere except in Cuttack and Balasore, where the fall was light. In July the rainfall was above the normal everywhere except in Cuttack and Balasore, where it was again below the normal. In August the rainfall was above the normal except in Bhagalpur and Purnea; where it was slightly below the normal.

Outturn.—In the important jute districts of Purnea and Cuttack, the outturn of the crop has been reported as 65 and 75 per cent., of normal, respectively. Champaran and the Santal Parganas each reports a crop of 95 per cent. Bhagalpur, Muzaffarpur and Balasore report 75, 50 and 44 per cent., respectively.

On the basis of the area and percentage outturn reported by the District Officers, and taking three bales as the normal outturn per acre, the total gross outturn of the crop for the Province this year comes to 422,289 bales or, in round numbers, 422,300 bales, against 528,200 bales, the revised final estimate for last year.

The average import of raw jute into this Province from Nepal during the last three years was equivalent to 58,838 bales. This figure, added to the figure for the Province arrived at, gives a total for Bihar and Orissa of 481,127 bales or, in round numbers, 481,100 bales, against 600,600 bales, the revised figure for last year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, ASSAM.

Final Forecast of the Jute Crop of Assam, 1924.

(NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1922-23, the area under jute in Assam represents 4.9 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.)

Season.—The weather at the beginning of the season was, as reported in the preliminary forecast, generally dry throughout the province, affecting the area and growth of the crop to a large extent. Later rainfall was, however, satisfactory; but considerable damage was done to the crop by flood in Goalpara, Kamrup, Sibsagar and Garo Hills. Damage to a certain extent was also caused by hailstorms in Goalpara and by insects in Darrang, Nowgong, Goalpara and Kamrup.

Area.—The area under jute has been reported by the Deputy Commissioners to be 130,400 acres, against the final figure of 119,900 acres of last year and 119,300 acres of the preliminary forecast of this year. The increase is generally due to the extension of cultivation on account of the high price of jute. The areas reported in the preliminary forecast have been revised in four districts, one showing a decrease and three showing increases.

Outturn.—The outturn per acre is estimated to be 71 per cent. of the normal against 81 per cent. of the previous year. Taking 3.5 bales of 400 lbs. of jute fibre as the normal yield per acre, the total produce of the crop in this province this year is calculated to be 323,900 bales, against the revised figure of 338,800 bales of last year or a decrease of about 4 per cent.

	Acre.	Acre.	Acre.
Cachar ..	300	300	300	52	70	500	700	August: Normal ..	The weather was dry at the beginning which retarded the sowing of the crop, but subsequent rainfall did good. The outturn is below normal for late sowing and for want of fertility in the soil.
Sylhet ..	17,900	13,600	13,500	70	64	33,300	30,200	Beginning of August: Normal.	The extremely dry weather at the sowing time is responsible for the decrease in area and the low outturn.
Goalpara ..	50,000	44,600	52,200	70	65	109,300	118,800	Middle of July: Normal.	The increase in area is due to extension of cultivation. The character of the weather from June to August was not good. Insects and hail-storms did some damage and later on two subsequent heavy floods did considerable damage to the crop, hence the outturn appears to be lower than that of last year.
Kamrup ..	12,700	10,200	10,800	85	80	30,300	30,200	Beginning of August: Normal.	The increase in area is due to extension of cultivation. Weather from June to August was not favourable on account of excessive rain. Outturn falls below normal as the growth of the crop was affected by drought at the beginning and some damage was done subsequently by grass-hoppers and flood in some localities.
Darrang ..	9,300	13,600	10,200	80	70	38,100	25,000	Middle of July: Early	The decrease in area is due to unfavourable weather at the sowing time. The character of the weather was not favourable to the growth of the crop and considerable injury in several places was done to the crop by insects. The outturn is therefore lower than that of last year.
Nowgong ..	14,700	33,500	30,400	100	80	117,200	110,300	Beginning of July: Early.	The increase in area is due to the extension of cultivation following last year's good market. The weather which at first was too dry improved considerably, but there was a shortage of rain in July and August. Insects also caused some damage. The fall in outturn is due to shortage of rain and insects.
Sibsagar ..	300	300	300	80	80	800	800	Middle of August: Normal.	The character of the weather was not very favourable and some damage was also done by flood. The outturn, therefore, is below normal.
Lakhimpur ..	200	200	100	74	77	500	300	Ditto ..	The character of the weather was not favourable, and hence the decrease in area. Heavy rainfall also retarded the growth of the crop causing the outturn to fall below normal.
Garo Hills (Plains).	4,600	3,600	3,600	70	60	8,800	7,600	End of July: Normal	The growth of the crop was badly affected owing to drought in the first part of June and floods in the first part of July. The outturn is therefore expected to be lower than that of last year.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF DISTRICT BOARDS IN BENGAL PRESIDENCY DURING THE YEAR 1922-23.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT.

CALCUTTA, THE 26TH SEPTEMBER 1924.

RESOLUTION—No. 4214L.S.-G.

READ—

The reports of the Commissioners of Divisions on the working of District Boards in Bengal during the year 1922-23.

The number of District Boards rose from 25 to 26 owing to the formation of a District Board in the district of Darjeeling, with effect from 1st April 1922. The total number of members increased from 554 to 616 of which 286 were nominated and 330 elected against 268 and 286 respectively in the previous year. The increase was due partly to the constitution of the Darjeeling District Board and partly to the fact that some District Boards were enlarged and given an elective majority.

2. Local Boards.—The number of Local Boards rose from 75 to 82. Three new Local Boards were created in the Darjeeling district, two in the Bogra district, one at Jhargram by the subdivision of the Midnapore Sadar Local Board and another at Lalbagh in the district of Murshidabad. It has, however, since been decided not to establish new Local Boards pending a careful definition of the functions of the three rural authorities, viz., the District Board, Local Board and Union Board, and a proposal for the establishment of a Local Board at Bolpur in the district of Birbhum was negatived. The number of Local Board members rose from 984 in the previous year to 1,206.

3. Village Self-Government.—Up to the end of the year over 2,000 Union Boards were sanctioned by Government of which nearly 1,300 were in working order. The sanction had to be withdrawn or kept in abeyance in the case of certain unions on account of the apathy and opposition of the people to these institutions. But the influences which hampered the growth and development of Union Boards during the preceding year were decidedly on the wane. In some unions there was opposition to the realisation of the union rates in the early part of the year. The pay of the chaukidars was in consequence greatly in arrear and tahsildars had to be appointed under section 54 of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act. The situation, however, improved during the latter part of the year and proposals for the establishment of several new boards were received after the close of the year.

Great interest appears to be taken in the Union Board elections, especially in the district of Dacca where it is reported that 29 candidates fought for six seats and 90 per cent. of the voters appeared at the polling stations. This is a good sign, as hitherto lack of interest on the part of the electorate has been one of the main obstacles to the success of the Union Board system.

The Union Boards which have been established so far have been handicapped for want of funds and have not been able, except in a few cases, to undertake the improvement of water supply or any other sanitary measures on a large scale. With a view therefore to augment their resources Government in 1921 laid down that the main purpose of the augmentation grant received by District Boards every year should be to supplement the resources of Union Boards and develop village sanitation and measures of public health, and District Boards were directed to distribute a substantial portion of this among the Union Boards under them. The figures for 1922-23 shows that out of a grant of more than Rs. 4½ lakhs received by District Boards in districts where Union Boards have been established only about a lakh and a half was given to Union Boards. Government, while viewing with regret the failure of District Boards to observe the condition which was attached to this grant, trust that they will in future distribute the major portion of this grant to Union Boards in view of the fact that progress in village sanitation and the improvement of the rural water supply must depend largely on the activities of the village authorities.

Under the existing law District Boards have power to advance loans to Union Boards and it is hoped that in view of the acute scarcity of water prevailing in the rural areas, District Boards will largely utilise this power and make loans to Union Boards in addition to the grants which they are expected to make from the proceeds of the Public Works Cess and the augmentation grant, for the improvement of water supply. The Local Authorities Loans Act also empowers Union Boards to raise funds by means of loans.

In spite of their limited resources the Union Boards generally showed increased interest in their work. The provision of a pure water supply received the attention of a large number of Union Boards, while a few others spent money on dispensaries and schools and distributed quinine. Some evinced greater interest in the improvement of the village roads and drainage. It is also reported that there has been marked improvement in the service by Union Boards of processes issued by the Civil and Criminal Courts. On the other hand, the work of many Union Boards left considerable room for improvement. Frequently there was apathy on the part of members while in some cases party faction was rife. In the Dacca district village roads and some tanks and wells which had been transferred to Union Boards for maintenance had to be re-transferred to the control of Local Boards as the Union Boards failed to maintain them properly. On the whole, however, the year marked a distinct advance in the development of these self-governing institutions, many of which have already established themselves as an integral part of the system of Local Self-Government. It is hoped that these village authorities will gradually acquire greater resources and that as local improvements thereby become possible, the capacity for public service will develop in the masses of Bengal.

4. Finance of District Boards.—The receipts amounted to Rs. 127 lakhs against Rs. 116·5 lakhs in 1921-22, the increase being mainly due to greater receipts under Local Rates, Medical, Railways, Civil works and Debt heads. The disbursements, however, fell from Rs. 123 lakhs to Rs. 120 lakhs. The closing balance amounted to Rs. 36 lakhs (of which Rs. 23·3 lakhs were in cash) against Rs. 28·2 lakhs in 1921-22.

5. Taxation.—The incidence was 2 annas 7 pies a head per annum varying in different districts from 1 anna 6 pies to 8 annas 2 pies.

6. Education.—The expenditure rose from Rs. 28·4 lakhs to Rs. 29·3 lakhs of which Government contributed Rs. 16·9 lakhs, while school fees yielded Rs. 4 lakhs. District Boards from their own funds contributed Rs. 11·3 lakhs.

The number of upper and lower primary schools increased from 39,688 to 40,152 of which 3,229 were entirely maintained by the boards, while the rest received grants-in-aid. Nine thousand five hundred and seventy-two of these institutions were girls' schools against 9,495 in 1921-22 and 9,142 in 1920-21.

Schemes for the expansion of primary education on the lines suggested by Mr. Biss received the attention of the Hooghly District Board but only a small number of Union Boards is reported to have been in earnest in the matter of raising the required sum either by taxation or local contribution. In Birbhum Mr. Biss explained before a conference of presidents, vice-presidents and secretaries of Union Boards the necessity and the probable cost of his scheme of free primary education. Several union schools under this scheme were established in the Mymensingh, Rajshahi and Rangpur districts and three similar schools are reported to have been started in the Beaulpur Union under the Noakhali District Board, while the Pabna District Board selected one union for the purpose of giving effect to the scheme, as an experimental measure. The scheme continued to work throughout the year in the Baruli, Bagerhat and Tala Union Boards in the Khulna district. The latter two Union Boards succeeded in raising an educational cess, while the former got an offer of an annual contribution of Rs. 500 from the local Educational Society. Two more Union Boards in the same district have applied for the introduction of the scheme within their jurisdiction. It is gratifying to find that the opposition at first offered to the scheme in some places has since subsided and that the people are realizing its benefits.

The weaving schools in the Burdwan Division continued to receive special attention, but the zeal and enthusiasm with which the Midnapore Weaving School was established is said to have declined. Special arrangements were made by Government to provide funds for a small working capital to the successful students of the peripatetic weaving school at Suri and the Director of Industries sanctioned a grant of Rs. 2,000 for a hostel for this school. The Khulna Technical School which teaches carpentry and blacksmith's and tinsmith's work is justifying itself and becoming more popular. The number of boys increased from 30 to 38 and the sale proceeds of articles manufactured there rose from Rs. 3,468 to Rs. 5,895. The Mymensingh Technical School continued to specialise in carpentry, cane and bamboo work, brass casting and blacksmith's and fitter's work, but the number of artisan pupils attending the school fell from 57 to 53. In Bakarganj a peripatetic weaving instructor and two assistants were at first appointed to teach the people up-to-date methods of weaving and dyeing, but two regular weaving schools were subsequently opened in police-station Gournadi in which improved methods of cotton weaving and jute weaving were taught. Instruction was also given to the local weavers in their homes. The industrial school at Rajshahi and the weaving school at Pabna are reported to have made good progress. All the passed students of the latter school were supplied with fly-shuttle looms from the deposits made by them out of their earnings during the period of training, while Government granted loans to five of them for starting work during the current year.

7. Public Health and Medical relief.

—The expenditure under these heads aggregated Rs. 15.25 lakhs against Rs. 13.7 lakhs of the preceding year. Medical relief was provided primarily through 344 dispensaries maintained by the boards and 282 in receipt of grants-in-aid as against 322 and 249 in 1921-22. Twenty-two new dispensaries were established during the year. One Ayurvedic subsidized dispensary was opened at Sarankhola in the Khulna district and the Murshidabad District Board continued its contribution towards a similar dispensary at Berhampore. The Ayurvedic dispensary at Jessore continued to do good work and it is reported that this system of treatment was greatly appreciated by the local people. The Faridpur District Board maintained one Homœopathic dispensary at Madhukhali.

The scheme for subsidizing private practitioners with the object of enabling them to establish themselves in unhealthy tracts where medical aid is not easily available, because it is poorly remunerated, received the attention of some of the District Boards. In the Burdwan Division the year marked a new epoch in the establishment of new dispensaries at thana headquarters as also of Union Board dispensaries.

Arrangements were made by almost all the District Boards to provide medical relief to the people in the interior of the districts during epidemics by engaging doctors who distributed medicines free, treated cases, disinfected wells and took measures to prevent the spread of cholera and small-pox and other infectious diseases. An outbreak of cholera in the Dinajpur district was checked by the use of anti-cholera vaccine. In the flood-affected area in Rajshahi, thirty-six centres were opened to provide medical and sanitary aid to the local people and sixty persons specially appointed for the purpose disinfected all the wells and tanks in the affected areas. As a result of this precaution no epidemic of any kind broke out after the flood.

Although steps were taken in several districts to combat Kala-azar the District Boards and other local authorities do not appear to have fully realised the extent to which this disease has spread in the Province. The recent Kala-azar survey which has been carried out in 13 districts, shows that 23 per cent. of the villages examined have been found infected with this disease. The existence of foci of intense Kala-azar infection has been brought to light in the districts of Burdwan and Jessore and specially in the Barasat subdivision of the 24-Parganas. Similarly, villages in the districts of Hooghly and Howrah where the disease has been previously unknown or unrecognized have recently been found to be heavily infected. Government consider it of primary importance that energetic steps should be taken to stamp out this disease and as an effective remedial measure has been found this is no impracticable proposition if the District Boards are prepared to train a sufficient number of medical men in the diagnosis and treatment of the disease.

The system of free vaccination was in force in several districts. In some districts vaccination work which has hitherto been under the Civil Surgeon of the district was transferred to the District Boards. In Midnapore the vaccination work was carried on by a staff of vaccinators under the Health Officer who reported that the general attitude of the people towards vaccination was not satisfactory.

8. Veterinary.—Compared with the preceding year the charges under this head increased by Rs. 14,000 without taking into account the expenditure incurred by the Darjeeling District Board. The public appreciated the services of veterinary assistants and asked for their assistance whenever there was an outbreak. Much depends on the power of these officers to convince ignorant people of the advantage of scientific treatment. After the last flood cattle disease broke out in Rajshahi in an epidemic form all over the affected area but measures were immediately taken to arrest the further progress of the disease. The Birbhum District Board with its slender means could not cope successfully with the large number of cattle epidemics that broke out in the district. It is gratifying to note, however, that some Union Boards in the district came forward to assist the District Board in this matter. The Hooghly District Board, for financial reasons resolved to abolish one of their two veterinary assistants—a retrograde step, which Government must strongly deprecate.

9. Civil Works.—The total expenditure under this head, which includes the sums spent on water supply and drainage, rose from Rs. 55.9 lakhs to Rs. 57.34 lakhs, the expenditure (Rs. 34.78 lakhs) on communications alone showing an increase of Rs. 2 lakhs. The 24-Parganas District Board spent Rs. 39,000 on the metalling of the Stevenson-Moore Road and the Balakhali-Bibirhat Road and Rs. 68,000 on the construction of two other important roads, viz., the Hasnanbad-Hingulganj Road and the Maslandpore-Khaspore Road, besides a sum of Rs. 67,000 on the repair of village roads. This Board also spent Rs. 22,500 for the construction of bridges and culverts. In the district of Khulna the toll-bar bridge at Benerpota was completed and the construction of an iron bridge (185 feet long) over the Morrelganj khal in the Bagerhat subdivision was taken up during the year. The District Board also spent nearly Rs. 12,000 on the construction of roads in accordance with a quinquennial programme. There were, however, large lapses of budget allotments for public works in the 24-Parganas (34.7 per cent.), Burdwan

(24 per cent.) and Midnapore (21.56 per cent.) districts. In the 24-Parganas district the lapses are said to be due to the tardy allotment of the Magrahat interest money. In Burdwan they are attributed mainly to the failure of supply of quartz stone metal from the quarry at Rupnarainpur, insufficient supply of wagons, labour unrest and absorption of labour at high rates by three large industrial concerns in the district, while in Midnapore they were due to the fact that plans and estimates had not been prepared in time and to the want of contractors to work at the board's rates. It is satisfactory to note that the percentage of lapses fell from 33.7 to 15.1 in Jessore and that no part of the allotment lapsed in the Nadia and Chittagong districts. The districts of Bankura, Hooghly and Howrah were visited by a severe flood which affected their roads very badly and put a very severe strain on their slender resources. It will take some time before the damaged roads can be put in a satisfactory state of repair and efficiency.

10. Water supply.—The expenditure under this head, which rose from Rs. 5.14 lakhs in 1921-22 to Rs. 5.33 lakhs, was mainly incurred on sinking wells and excavating and clearing tanks. Despite the suggestion made from time to time that capital works of this kind should be financed from loans, the whole amount was met from current revenue. It is, however, gratifying to find that the District Board of Khulna applied for a loan of Rs. 40,000 in order to enable it to finance a scheme for the removal of the scarcity of drinking water. As the loan was paid towards the close of the year, no expenditure could be incurred out of it. It is hoped that the example of the Khulna District Board will act as a stimulus to other District Boards, as it is not only impossible to meet from the current revenue the enormous sums required for the provision of an adequate supply of pure water, but it is unfair that the present generation should be saddled with the entire expenditure on projects, the benefits of which posterity will to a great measure enjoy.

The excavation of tanks is reported to be a task of difficulty in tracts near rivers and khals with saline water. Experience shows that in such tracts the water of tanks, the sites of which were selected after careful examination, became saline shortly after excavation.

The Chairman of the Faridpur District Board observes that reinforced concrete wells have been very successful in sandy soil and the people of chur lands are showing in a remarkable degree their willingness to carry the rings and sink them at their own cost, provided the Board can supply the rings. The system of granting loans without interest to enable owners of old insanitary tanks to re-excavate them has also been much appreciated by the people of this district. The same system has also been adopted by the Noakhali District Board. In Bakarganj a triennial programme covering the excavation of 46 new tanks has been drawn up and approved by the Board. It is satisfactory to note that Union Boards in the districts of Burdwan, Birbhum and Hooghly carried out works for the improvement of water supply.

Government regret to observe that although the provision of an adequate supply of pure water in rural areas is mainly a concern of the local authorities, District Boards have not fulfilled their obligation in this respect. The inadequate expenditure on water supply was brought to the notice of District Boards and at the District Board conference last year the delegates adopted a resolution to the effect that at least 33 per cent. of the Public Works Cess should be spent by District Boards on rural water supply and sanitation. It is hoped that an earnest effort will be made by all District Boards to give effect to this resolution. Government desire to impress on the District Boards the magnitude of the problem of rural water supply. There are as many as 84,981 villages in the province and even if each village has to be provided with at least one satisfactory source of water supply, the capital and maintenance cost involved will be an enormous one. It is thus obviously impossible either for Government or for District Boards to attempt directly to provide each village with a sufficient supply of pure water, and even if the means were forthcoming neither the Provincial Government nor the District Board would be in a position to tackle the problem successfully, except through the agency of smaller units, such as the Union Board. The ultimate solution of the problem, therefore, lies in the formation of Union Boards throughout the rural area and it is hoped that in the interest of sanitation and public health, the establishment of these smaller local bodies will be greatly accelerated.

Tube wells furnish a generally reliable and a comparatively inexpensive source of water supply. Government are convinced that there is scope for the wider use of this method of water supply in rural areas and they trust that the practicability of sinking tube wells will be carefully considered by every District and Union Boards.

11. Closing balance.—The actual closing balance rose from Rs. 17.1 lakhs to Rs. 23.3 lakhs. There were heavy balances in the 24-Parganas (Rs. 3,53,890), Midnapore (Rs. 3,37,290), and Burdwan (Rs. 3,35,457). The heavy balance at the credit of the 24-Parganas District Board is attributed to the unspent balance under "Civil Works", non-payment of the interest of the Magrahat drainage loan and the unspent balance of the Government contribution for the Jaboona drainage scheme while those in Midnapore and Burdwan are partly due to increased income from cess and partly to less expenditure under "Civil Works". The large balance in Midnapore was also swollen by the Government contribution for education. In Mymensingh the balance rose from Rs. 50,533 to Rs. 2,22,248 which indicates some want of foresight or enterprize.

General remarks.—Except in the case of the 24-Parganas, where work was disorganized owing to disputes about the election of the new Board and the delay in the confirmation of the present Chairman, the administration of the District Boards by non-official Chairman, so far as their funds permitted, was on the whole satisfactory. Most of the non-official Chairmen showed keen interest in their work and devoted a considerable part of their time to the discharge of their onerous duties, even at the sacrifice of their professional interest. The members also evinced greater interest in the affairs of the Board. It is reported from one district that the meetings, which commence as a rule at about 2 or 3 p.m. often go on to a late hour of the night. Although the Boards have done a great deal of useful work during the year under review, their funds in most cases proved utterly inadequate to meet the many pressing demands upon their resources. The twenty-six District Boards of the province are primarily responsible for the health and convenience of a population of more than 42 millions in an area of 70,000 square miles. Their revenue in 1922-23 was a little more than 115 lakhs, which allows an expenditure of 4 annas 1 pie per head. With this paltry sum it is obviously impossible to provide every facility for water supply, drainage, improved communications, education, sanitation and medical relief, etc., for which people in the urban areas pay nearly fifteen times as much. The question of augmenting the resources of District Boards was considered more than once at the annual conference of representatives of District Boards. The conference was opposed to any increase in the land cess but approved the proposal to levy a tax on carriages, including motor vehicles and upon persons attending melas as well as upon the owners of such melas. It also proposed that District Boards should be empowered to levy license fees on private markets. A Bill providing for these measures as well as other matters was introduced into the Legislative Council in August 1923. The income of District Boards will be slightly increased, if and when this Bill is passed into law, but the amount expected to be realized from these petty taxes will obviously be insufficient to meet the many pressing needs of the people. The remedy lies in the organization of local resources for which ample scope is afforded by Union Boards. The Bengal Village Self-Government Act was enacted with the express purpose of creating village organizations to deal with sanitation, rural water supply and such other village problems. It is hoped that the District Boards in districts, where Union Boards have not yet been formed, will realize this fact and make every endeavour to establish and develop Union Boards, as it is obviously impossible to protect the rural population from pestilence and disease without organising them into small village communities.

cases in 3 Queen's Bench, pages 629, and 3 Law Times Report, page 667 were quoted. Our judgment was published in the Gazette. If it be said that everyone does not read the Gazette, the obvious answer is that it is a small electorate of intelligent business men, and any slight enquiry why the first election was set aside must have revealed the defect. A revision of the roll was asked for though late. The electors must be considered to have known the position very well. There is a well established distinction between a candidate disqualified ab initio and a candidate who is subsequently found incapable of election. Notice is necessary in the latter case. The case in 9 Common Pleas (quoted by Parker, pages 273), i.e., the case of Drinkwater distinguished the case quoted by Mr. Bose, viz., 3 Queen's Bench, page 629. The electors must have known that it had been held that Mr. Chakravarti was disqualified. The votes given by them must be treated as nullities. The case in 23 Queen's Bench, page 72 (Beresford and Lady Sandhurst) is apposite. We hold, therefore, that Mr. Addy can claim the seat on the basis of the bye-election which has taken place.

Issues Nos. 5 and 6.—Mr. Addy claimed four more votes in his petition. Mr. Biswas appearing for him gave up one vote, viz., the one mentioned in para 19(3). Evidence was taken in respect of the other three votes. It appears that Pratap Chandra Ganguly did not sign the ballot paper. It was argued that under Regulation LVII absence of signature was not a ground for rejecting the vote. The Returning Officer was not in a position to know in the absence of signature whether the particular elector had exercised his vote or not. The ballot paper was not completed. The Returning Officer was, therefore, right in rejecting the vote.

The other two votes must be taken into consideration. Tribhuban Das Heerachand shown in the roll as such, signed his name as Tribhuban Heerachand. He has been examined. Mr. Chetty K. V. R. M. Rajanathan was described in the roll as "Messrs." instead of "Mr." by the placing of "the mark" (ditto) under the name of a firm so described and his vote was rejected as a company vote. He has deposed that he does business for himself alone. Obviously "Messrs." has been put down by mistake. It is argued that there is no misnomer clause as in the Representation of People's Act, 1918, and that mistakes cannot be corrected here. We follow the principles of English Law, however, in our decisions. The case of Moorhouse versus Linney, 15 Q.B.D., page 237, was quoted, but a different decision was given in Bowden versus Bisley, 21 Q.B.D., page 309. There is also the case in 23 Q.B.D., page 136. The roll is conclusive, but evidence can be given that a man had the right to exercise his vote. In the Oldham case (1 O'Malley and Hardcastle, page 153) Bradshaw was wrongly entered as William Mills. It was held that if a person was called by a wrong name in the register, it raised a difficulty, but he could show that he was really the man. There is the Exeter case reported in 6 O'Malley and Hardcastle. William John Langmead was on the register, but it was proved that he had left the place three years ago. Earnest Langmead was the occupier and really entitled to vote, and he voted in the honest belief that he had a right to vote. His vote was counted. We hold, therefore, that these two votes should be accepted and that Mr. Addy polled 17 votes.

The vote given by Gour Charan Law for Mr. Muralidhar Roy was rejected on the ground that the signature is illegible. We have examined the ballot paper and the counterfoil and we consider that there is no difficulty in holding that he voted for Mr. Muralidhar Roy. We hold, therefore, that this vote should be counted and that therefore Mr. Roy polled 16 votes in the bye-election. Mr. Addy has thus a majority of one. In the circumstances mentioned above we hold that the election of Mr. Byomkesh Chakravarti should be declared null and void and Mr. Amulya Dhona Addy declared duly elected.

The Returning Officer maintains that he is not a necessary party. There is no provision in our law to join him as a party. We do not think, however, that in the circumstances of the case we can direct the petitioner to pay him his costs.

We think the petitioner should get his costs in this case from Mr. Chakravarti. There was an adjournment for one day on his Counsel promising to pay the costs for that day. We recommend that Mr. Chakravarti should pay the costs of the petitioner, the pleader's fees being estimated on the whole at Rs. 50.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 3334.—The following statement is published for general information:—

A statement by His Excellency the Governor General of the reasons which have moved him, in exercise of the powers conferred upon him by section 72 of the Government of India Act, to make and promulgate an Ordinance to supplement the ordinary criminal law in Bengal, under the title of the Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Ordinance, 1924.

J. CRERAR,
Secretary to the Government of India.

STATEMENT.

1. It is a matter of common knowledge that a revolutionary conspiracy existed during the years 1912-1919 which has left the most poignant memories of the misery and terror it created throughout Bengal. All other methods of dealing with this conspiracy having been tried without avail, it was not suppressed until its leaders were confined under the provisions of Regulation III of 1818, and many of its subordinate members dealt with under the Defence of India Act. After the Royal Proclamation of 1919, most of these persons were released. Many forsook their connection with revolutionary crime and have not since returned to it. To the remainder, who have since showed themselves to be irreconcilable, the amnesty was, after the institution of the reformed system of government, gradually extended, in the hope that under a new political era they would recognise the duties and the advantages of good citizenship. This hope has not been realised. The majority of these still retained their faith in the efficacy of violence and assassination as political weapons. They speedily returned to their old methods and reorganised their old associations, taking care only to avoid the mistakes to which they attributed their previous failure. During the years 1920 to 1922 they carried on their activities under the cloak of the political movements then in progress, recruiting their followers and perfecting their organisation with a view to future action when opportunity offered.

2. Towards the end of 1922 the leaders of these conspiracies, believing that their objects would not be attained by the methods of the non-co-operation movement, decided to revert to methods of violence. The two main terrorist organisations had now been resuscitated; new members in large numbers were recruited; arms and ammunition, partly of a kind which cannot be obtained in India, and must therefore have been smuggled from abroad, were collected; a new and highly dangerous type of bomb was manufactured; and projects of assassination against certain police officers and other persons were devised. The movements of these officers and their residences were watched and those who watched, being themselves placed under observation, were traced to places known to be haunts of the conspirators.

3. During the year 1923, a series of outrages was perpetrated, including a dacoity with double murder at Kona near Howrah and the looting of the Ultadingi Post Office in May, a robbery with murder in July, the Sankaritolla murder and others which I need not specify. In January of the present year Mr. Day was murdered in Calcutta and an attempt was made to murder Mr. Bruce in April, in both cases as it appears, in mistake for a prominent and distinguished Police official. In March a bomb factory was discovered, and other activities directed to the manufacture of bombs and the illicit collection of arms were detected. It is known that other crimes were planned and that projects of assassination continued and still continue to be devised. I say nothing of other deplorable events which are now under judicial investigation. Evidence has been placed before me which shows to my satisfaction that the movement is deep-seated and dangerous. It is impossible for obvious reasons to divulge much of the information available to Government but it confirms in every respect the view I have been forced to accept.

4. Though the situation during 1923 was grave, I was reluctant to invoke the powers conferred upon me by the Government of India Act, until I was fully persuaded that all other means for dealing with the emergency had been exhausted. My Government accordingly authorised the confinement of certain leaders of the criminal association under the provisions of Regulation III of 1818. The movement was temporarily checked, but new leaders were found and operations were resumed, as is apparent from the dark record of crime in the present year. I have therefore come to the conclusion, after the fullest consultation with the Local Government, that it is necessary to arm the Government of Bengal with special powers to deal with preparations for crime, with the object of protecting not only the officers of Government, whose lives are threatened, but equally private citizens, who have frequently been the innocent sufferers from such outrages, and misguided youths who are its tools and often themselves its victims. I am convinced that preparations and plans for criminal outrages are now so dangerously developed that it is necessary to provide immediate safeguards by an Ordinance. Permanent measures to remedy the situation will in due course be presented by the Local Government.

5. The Ordinance is directed solely to these ends and will in no way touch or affect the interests or liberties of any citizens, whether engaged in private or public affairs, so long as they do not connect themselves with violent criminal methods. The fundamental duty of Government is to preserve public security on which political advance and all the functions of a civilised social organism depend. And, as it is manifest that sound and permanent political progress cannot be accelerated by violence or threat of violence, so also I deem it my duty and the duty of my Government to see that no violence or threat of violence shall operate to retard it. I and my Government will therefore proceed as we are doing along the line of political development laid down in the declared policy of Parliament reaffirmed by His Majesty's Government. Acting with these objects and these intentions, I believe myself and my Government to be entitled to the support and co-operation of all those who have truly at heart the peace, the prosperity and the political future of India.

Appointment and qualification of Commissioners

4. (1) Commissioners for the trial of persons under this Ordinance shall be appointed by the Local Government.

(2) Such Commissioners may be appointed for the whole of Bengal or for any part thereof, or for the trial of any particular accused person or class of accused persons.

Procedure of Commissioners.

5. (1) Commissioners appointed under this Ordinance may take cognizance of offences without the accused being committed to them for trial, and in trying accused persons shall record evidence in the manner prescribed in section 356 of the Code and shall, in other respects also, subject to this Ordinance and to any rules made thereunder, follow the procedure prescribed by the Code for the trial of warrant cases by Magistrates :

Application of Code of Criminal
Procedure, 1898,
to proceedings of Commissioners.

7. Tender of pardon.

8. (1) Commissioners trying an offence under this Ordinance may, with a view to obtaining the evidence of any person supposed to have been directly concerned in, or privy to, the offence, tender a pardon to such person on condition of his making a full and true disclosure of the whole circumstances within his knowledge relative to the offence and to every other person concerned whether as principal or abettor in the commission thereof.

(2) Where, in the case of any offence for the trial of which by Commissioners an order has been made under sub-section (1) of section 3, a pardon has, before the passing of such order, been tendered to and accepted by any person under section 337 of the Code, the provisions of sub-sections (2) and (3) of that section of the Code shall apply as if the accused person had been committed for trial to the Commissioners.

(3) For the purposes of sections 339 and 339A of the Code, pardons tendered under sub-section (1) and sub-section (2) shall be deemed respectively to have been tendered under sections 338 and 337 of the Code.

RESOLUTION.

No. 10850 P.—THE 25TH OCTOBER 1924.

The Governor in Council desires to take the earliest opportunity of explaining, as far as is possible at the present stage, the reasons which have led him to ask the Governor-General to promulgate an Ordinance to supplement the ordinary criminal law in Bengal.

It is a matter of common knowledge that a revolutionary conspiracy existed during the years 1908 to 1917. The revolutionaries themselves no longer attempt to conceal the fact, nor have they described the movement in books and in articles in the public Press. The object of that conspiracy was to overturn by violent means the Government established by law in India. The leaders sought to achieve this object by the spread of revolutionary ideas and the collection of arms, with a view to rising in rebellion when the time was ripe. The means adopted were the preaching of race hatred and of revolution as a religious duty and the organisation of disciplined secret societies. Funds for this purpose were obtained by robberies with violence, and immunity for the criminals was sought by intimidation. Everyone who hampered the movement or contributed to the punishment of the criminals was threatened with assassination, many Government officials were actually murdered and a reign of terror was gradually established in Bengal. All ordinary methods of dealing with crime failed to check the movement; the leaders have freely boasted, in the books they have since written, of the powerlessness of Government to deal with their conspiracy by means of the ordinary law and Bengal was only rescued in the end from the tyranny of this band of murderers by the use of Regulation III of 1818 and the powers which the Government obtained under the Defence of India Act. The conspiracy was effectively crushed by these means and, if the powers had been retained by Government, it could never have been revived.

After the Royal Proclamation of 1919, all persons who were still interned were released. Many of those who were dealt with under the Defence of India Act subsequently abandoned the idea of violent revolution. The amnesty was gradually extended to the comparatively small group of irreconcilables, the leaders of the movement, who had been detained in jail. It was hoped that the opportunities for political advance offered by the Reforms would change their attitude towards Government, but these hopes have not been realised. These men still believe that none but violent means can accomplish their object, and they are convinced that the fact that any concession was made at all was solely due to fear caused by their terrorist movement. As soon as they were released they began to reorganise their societies and to work secretly on the old lines, though they took advantage of the experience which they had gained to avoid the mistakes to which they attributed their previous failure. Two facts may be noticed at this point. The first is that the revival of the terrorist conspiracy was encouraged by the belief that Government could no longer deal with it effectively. The second is that though from the very nature of the conspiracy with which they are confronted, the Government are unable to take the public as fully into their confidence as they would wish regarding its existence and its intentions, since secret organisations which employ the weapons of assassination and terrorism have necessarily to be dealt with by secret methods, yet they have throughout had information, which has been tested and proved reliable, of the movements and activities of the leaders of the terrorist party and are now satisfied that it would be highly dangerous to allow the movement to remain unchecked any longer.

The terrorist leaders who had constantly preached violence as the only road to independence naturally had no faith in non-violent non-co-operation. They realised, however, that the policy of non-violence had been generally accepted and during the years 1920 and 1921 they were content to stand by and watch events, whilst using any form of organisation in order to extend their influence with a view to future action. Later, endeavours were made to organise asrams on lines similar to those which played so important a part in former movements. Leading members of the two main organisations have been very active in propaganda work and in recruiting new members, particularly from the student class. Every cause of unrest was exploited and every centre of agitation utilised for the dissemination of terrorism and the capture of new recruits. Recent events at Tarakeswar, which attracted from all parts of Bengal impressionable youths in a high state of excitement, afford the latest example of how an agitation wholly unconnected with the terrorist movement was utilised by the leaders of that movement to swell their numbers.

The conspirators are also known to have manufactured a new and highly dangerous type of bomb and to have secured considerable quantities of arms and ammunition. These weapons have been used in some of the outrages which have occurred during the past two years, and it is significant that the ammunition used on several occasions was of a foreign make which cannot be obtained lawfully in India.

The events of the last two years, with in greater detail. In May 1923 one section of the terrorist party, which had recently been conspiring to assassinate police officers, especially Mr. Tegart, who had recently returned to India as Commissioner of Police, embarked upon a campaign of dacoity and murder, partly in order to secure funds but partly also in order to accustom their men to violent action and to terrorise any who might be inclined to oppose them. They first committed a dacoity with double murder at Kona near Howrah; in the same month the Ultadingi post office was looted. The same gang committed the robbery with murder at Garpar Road on the 30th July in which firearms were again used. The murder of the Sankaritola postmaster followed. The investigations into this case resulted in full corroboration of the information already in the possession of Government and proved conclusively that these outrages were all the work of a particular group of the party.

Seven members of this group were put on trial in the Alipore conspiracy case, but many of the facts in the possession of Government could not be placed before the Court and they were eventually acquitted. Some of the accused who had not previously admitted their guilt stated subsequently that they had taken part in these outrages and that the immediate object of the conspiracy was the assassination of police officers—a conspiracy which was continued even whilst they were in jail as under-trial prisoners.

The situation after these outrages had been committed was serious. The lives of the officers of Government were in imminent danger and it was clear that, unless immediate action was taken, terrorism and crime would spread and Bengal would be again exposed to the dangers and horrors of the previous outbreak of violent revolutionary crime. Several of the chief leaders were accordingly incarcerated under Regulation III of 1818. This action came as a surprise and checked the movement for the time being, but not for long. New leaders were found and operations were resumed. In December a robbery of Rs. 17,000, the property of the Assam-Bengal Railway, was committed at Chittagong by four bhadralok youths armed with revolvers. Subsequent police investigations showed that certain bhadralok youths were hiding in suspicious circumstances in a house in a village at some distance from Chittagong. The search of this house ten days after the robbery led to the discovery of a number of weapons and ammunition which included cartridges of the foreign type mentioned above. The attempt to arrest the occupants of the house led to a running fight between them and a body of police and villagers and to the arrest of two youths with firearms in their possession. An attempt was made to decoy from his house one of the chief witnesses in the robbery case with the obvious intention of murdering him, and on the next evening a Sub-Inspector who had arrested one of the accused in this case and knew the other members of the gang by sight was shot at Chittagong.

It has been mentioned above that the assassination of certain police officers had long been contemplated by the terrorist party and that some of the persons who were acquitted in the Alipore conspiracy case stated that this was the immediate object of the conspiracy. In the early part of 1923 persons were found to be watching the movements of these officers and their residences. These watchers were themselves placed under observation and traced to places which were known to be haunts of the conspirators.

In January 1924 Mr. Day was murdered in Calcutta by Gopi Mohan Saha in mistake for Mr. Tegart, and in April Mr. Bruce was fired at in Harrisa Road in circumstances which suggest that this was a similar case of mistaken identity. The ammunition used in the murder of Mr. Day and in the Chittagong murder was also of the foreign type already referred to.

In March a bomb factory was discovered in Calcutta fully equipped with explosives and implements for loading and fitting bomb-shells, of which a number, both loaded and unloaded, were found. This discovery showed not only the existence of an efficient organisation but also a high degree of scientific knowledge, since the bombs used marked a distinct advance on anything which had previously come to light, being modelled on the Mills bomb and loaded with ammonium picrate. Police investigation into this case led to the discovery of one of the Mauser pistols stolen from Messrs. Rodda & Co. in 1914 and also a revolver and ammunition. About the same time a young bhadralok was severely injured whilst handling explosives at Faridpur. In May three youths were seen to reconnoitre a building occupied by police officers in circumstances which pointed strongly to an intention to throw a bomb. In July a well-known member of the party was arrested in the streets of Calcutta with a fully loaded revolver in his possession, for which offence he was convicted by the Chief Presidency Magistrate.

At the end of July the public were startled by the appearance of the "Red Bengal" leaflets, the first issue of which announced the initiation of a campaign of assassination of police officers, and warned the public that any one interfering would meet the same fate. The second issue, which appeared shortly afterwards, impressed on the political leaders of Bengal the necessity for the existence of an active violence party and indicated that this party had come to stay. Government are now in a position definitely to state that these leaflets were printed in Calcutta and were issued by a certain section of this party of violence. Terrorist literature of this type, so familiar in the campaign of 1914—18, exercises a most baneful effect on the minds of the student community, while the publication and wide distribution to carefully selected persons simultaneously throughout the province is indicative by itself of the existence of a widespread organisation behind it. Among a large number of persons to whom the leaflets were sent were a Magistrate who held the identification parade in the Alipore conspiracy case, a witness in the case against Gopi Mohan Saha, and the Judge who tried and the Standing Counsel who prosecuted in the b case.

On the night of the 22nd of August a bomb of the same type as those referred to above was hurled into a khaddar shop at 25, Mirzapur Street,

Calcutta. The bomb exploded and killed on the spot one man in the shop and severely wounded another. The third occupant of the shop, Sisir Kumar Ghosh, who was dealt with under Regulation III of 1818 in connection with the revolutionary campaign of 1914—18, jumped out of the shop in pursuit of an individual who, he stated, actually threw the bomb. This man, Basanta Kumar Dhenki, was captured. Another arrest was also made on the spot at the time of a youth named Santi Lal Chakrabartti. They were both placed on their trial at the last High Court Sessions. Santi Lal was unanimously acquitted by the verdict of the jury and was discharged. Basanta Kumar Dhenki, who was found not guilty by a divided verdict of 7 to 2 and 8 to 1 on two different charges, was remanded in custody for re-trial by the presiding Judge, who disagreed with the verdict of the jury. Santi Lal was released from the Sessions Court on the 29th of September. His dead body was found shockingly mutilated between Dum Dum and Belgharia on the early morning of the 3rd October.

The above is a very brief outline of the outward manifestation of the existence of a violent conspiracy as disclosed by overt acts which are already public property, but apart from these specific cases, Government are in possession of information, which has come from various sources and from different parts of the province, which shows that during the course of the current year the conspirators have, in addition, attempted to assassinate police officers, high Government officials, and members of their own organisations whom they suspect of giving information to the authorities. No less than five such attempts are known to have been made during and subsequent to July last. The fact that the intended victims escaped death at the hands of miscreants, who set forth armed with bombs and pistols to murder them, can only be attributed to Providence. In some cases the assassins suspected police vigilance, in others they were thwarted by the unexpected movements of their intended victims. It is impossible, in view of the confidential nature of this information, to make public precise details of these particular plots, but the information regarding them is being continually confirmed by subsequent events and from other sources.

A brief reference may here be made to the campaign in the Press and on public platforms, which has proved so effective an agency in assisting the party to perfect their organisation and increase their numbers. This campaign started in 1922 and has grown in intensity. The eulogy of old revolutionaries, the idealising of youth who committed murders and other crimes, and the publication of their biographies, have all been resorted to with the obvious intention of inciting the youth of Bengal to follow their example. Articles still appear daily in the Indian Press fomenting racial hatred and verging as near to incitements to violence as the law admits.

As the foregoing facts show, the situation has become increasingly serious during the past two years. In June last the terrorist campaign was given a great impetus by the resolution of the Bengal Provincial Conference which expressed admiration for the spirit of self-sacrifice exhibited by Gopi Mohan Saha. The effects of the resolution were electrical; it is by far the most potent recruiting instrument which has ever been placed in the hands of the organisers of violent crime and has been a continual incitement to the youth of Bengal to take to violent ways.

At present then there is in Bengal a large criminal association secretly organised and equipped for a campaign, the immediate object of which is to paralyse Government by the assassination of their officers. The existence of this association is now admitted in all quarters and its magnitude was strikingly emphasised by Mr. C. R. Das in a recent interview with the Press. It is daily increasing in strength and, as in the years before 1915, ordinary measures have failed to check it. The situation has become so serious that the Governor in Council is forced to ask that he may be armed with the extraordinary powers which will alone enable him to deal with it effectively. He has therefore decided to summon the Legislative Council without delay to consider measures of legislation which will be placed before it to that end. This legislation will follow the lines of the Defence of India Act and Rules which proved effective in crushing the conspiracy of 1914-18 which had the same aims, the same methods, and largely the same leaders as the conspiracy of to-day. It was the unanimous opinion of all who examined the question that it is impossible to deal with terrorist crime under the ordinary law or through the ordinary Courts, and that the powers given by the Defence of India Act and Rules proved an effective weapon, whilst no other powers have ever been suggested as really effective. Regulation III of 1818 is not well adapted to deal with the situation; it can be used to deal with irreconcilable leaders, but is unnecessarily harsh for dealing with the rank and file of the conspiracy, among whom are men who may become leaders, potential assassins and recruits, who must be dealt with if the movement is to be checked but can be dealt with by the milder method of internment. Had Government possessed those powers earlier, they would have used them against the murderers of the Sankaritola postmaster and Mr. Day, both of whom were known before the murders were committed as recent recruits of the conspiracy, and would thus not only have averted the outrages, but prevented these youths from becoming active criminals. The legislation will further provide for a special procedure for trying persons accused of violent crime. Terrorism of witnesses and juries, failure of juries through fear to return verdicts in accordance with the evidence, the murder of witnesses and persons who have confessed or turned King's evidence, the fear of witnesses to disclose facts within their knowledge—all conspire to render justice unobtainable under the existing law. These have already operated in more than one recent case.

The legislation will not give Government any extraordinary powers to deal with sedition, with industrial movements or with communal disturbances, even though they may menace the maintenance of order; cases of this kind will be left to the ordinary Courts. It is aimed solely at the secret criminal conspiracy, which has terrorism as its object or method. The Governor in Council is convinced that the large majority of the members view terrorist conspiracy with the same abhorrence as he himself. The necessity for dealing with this terrorist movement swiftly and effectively, so as to ensure the arrest of the most dangerous conspirators without giving them warning which would enable them to carry on and direct the conspiracy whilst in hiding, has compelled the Governor in Council to ask the Governor-General to promulgate an Ordinance on the lines which the Bill will follow.

The Governor in Council regrets that he has been forced by circumstances to have recourse to these extraordinary measures, which are repugnant to him but in the situation with which he was confronted he had no alternative. All political parties in India have condemned violence as a means of political advance and Government look to every true well-wisher of his country to support them in every measure necessary to suppress anarchy and terrorism. The evils attendant on the former conspiracy, the misery that was caused uselessly, the contamination of youth that resulted, are fresh in their memory and Government feel assured that the people of Bengal can regard with nothing but horror the possibility of a recurrence of similar calamities.
